Blockade of Guayaquil—Decline of the Peruvian Guano Trade—Symptoms of Discontent—An American Envoy in Pursuit of the Bolivian Government—Progress of the Chilian Revolution—The Paraguay Squadron.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Panama, Saturday, March 19, 1859.

The British mail steamship New-Granada arrived at Panama on the 10th, being two days behind her time in consequence of breaking some portion of her machinery. She brought $225,000 in specie for England.

ECUADOR.

The blockade of Guayaquil by the Peruvian fleet still continued. It is thought the differences with Peru will be soon settled through the mediation of the Ministers of Chili and New-Granada. It is almost certain, at any rate, that there can be no war, Castilla fearing a revolution at home if he sends his troops North to make war on Ecuador—and Ecuador being too poor to send an army to invade Peru.

President Robles and his Cabinet have left Quito and constituted Guayaquil his capital for the present. This step has created great excitement at Quito, whose municipality have published a bitter and abusive paper against the President, causing the latter and his friends a good deal of alarm.

The Amazona, steam-frigate of 32 guns, is anchored close to the shore, with her guns bearing on the Government house. There are five other Peruvian war vessels before Guayaquil, and at different points in the river. There is a good deal of sickness and discontent in the fleet, and numerous desertions. It is thought if it remains in the river three months longer the crews will shed their last drop of blood in a most inglorious but pic-quant and irritating war—with the mosquitoes. The ships take every bungo-load of provisions that they can catch in the river, appropriate the food, and then destroy the bungo. They often amuse themselves by firing into these little boats, and sometimes killing the poor peasants who navigate them. In this way they one day killed a little boy only eleven years, named Antonio Rivera.

But wishing to try their hand on bigger game, one of their vessels, stationed before the Island of Puna seized, the other day, the Spanish bark Maria y Julia from Guatemala and Salvador, bound to Europe, with a cargo of indigo, &c., on board, valued at over $200,000. This vessel arrived at Puna on the 10th February, and, the mate being in a dying state, the Captain went up to Guayaquil in his boat with the purpose of leaving him there and taking another one. During his absence, a Peruvian man-of-war went down from Guayaquil to Puna and ordered the second mate of the Maria y Julia to leave the anchorage. The second mate told him he was unable to navigate the ship. Upon this, the Peruvian officer took possession of her, pulled down the Spanish flag, hoisted the Peruvian, and sent the vessel to Paita under a Peruvian crew, putting the Spanish one on shore in Tumbes. The Spanish Consul in Guayaquil made his claim for damages, and protested against the outrage, as the vessel had not attempted to force the blockade, but had rested quietly at Puna. This matter will probably cost Peru about half a million dollars.

The Maria y Julia subsequently was towed to Callao, together with the Peruvian bark Rosita, which latter was taken for violation of the rules of the blockade.

PERU.

Lima and Callao, and indeed the whole of the Republic, appear to be tranquil at present. The Lima Comercio, however, publishes some intercepted letters from Ex-President Echonique, which, together with continued arrests for conspiracy, go to show that Castilla's enemies are actively planning his down fall, and will never cease their efforts so long as there is the least hope of its accomplishment.

The guano trade has fallen so low that the Government is likely soon to be seriously incommoded from lack of funds. All kinds of business are at a stand-still, the wretched Bolivian currency having become so unpopular that the people are afraid to take it in any considerable sum, and there being but little other coin to serve as a medium of exchange. Besides the Bolivian half-dollar, which is hardly worth 33 cents, but must be taken for 50, the country is flooded with counterfeit coin of a good deal less value. Exchange on England cannot be less than 40 pence, and bills on Chili cost 15 per cent.

Assassinations and robberies are of as frequent record as ever in the papers. The Callao and Chorrillas railroads come in for plentiful anathemas from the people and Press, the Comercio being filled with complaints of the carelessness of the managers in running over people, running off the tracks, and running past stations without stopping; exorbitant charges, and lack of accommodation generally.

Captain Manuel Palacios was lately roundly abused by President Castilla in person, and then superseded in the command of the war steamer General Lerzundi, because he did not have steam up as quickly as he was ordered to do, to go to Guayaquil.

BOLIVIA.

This State is tolerably tranquil at present; but, as in Peru, the enemies of the present state of things are vigilant and active. It is scarcely possible Dr. Linares can keep the Presidency much longer.

By a private letter, I learn that the new United States Minister, John Cotton Smith, was at La Paz on the 9th of February, but would leave on the 1st April for Oruru, where the Government at present is stationed. In April, when the rains are over, the Government will probably take up its residence in Sucre, to which place General Smith will follow it. Sucre is described to be one of the prettiest and most agreeable towns in all the interior of South America.

Of La Paz my correspondent remarks:

"La Paz is a much larger town than I expected to see, containing some 80,000 persons. But of this great mass, hardly 10,000 would, after the exercise of the most liberal charity, pass in the United States for white folks. Comparatively speaking, but few Spanish women were ever brought into South America, fewer still so far in the interior, and so, of course, the mixture with the native is almost universal. Notwithstanding this disadvantage, there are some good families here, and the women of these, though rarely pretty, have pleasing faces and amiable manners. They are fond of music, dancing and flowers. There are probably three hundred pianos in La Paz, costing, on their arrival here, from $400 to $1,200 each. How they are brought 240 miles from Tacna, on mules, I cannot conceive. The fondness for foreign productions and luxuries has drained this country of its wealth, till now it is miserably poor, though possessing within its bosom all the elements of extraordinary richness."

Governor Dana, late Minister to Bolivia, was to have left La Paz about the 1st March. He does not wish to arrive in the United States until May or June, on account of change of climate, to the influence of which he is quite susceptible.

CHILI.

The revolution in Chili, though the Government appears to have been able to partially suppress it in some districts in the South, is every day acquiring greater strength. The Comercio at Valparaiso and other Government organs, endeavor to treat it as a trivial matter of only isolated risings and riots, styling its movers and actors pelucones, retrogradados, &c., but it won't do—private letters and reliable verbal accounts all go to prove that if President Montt and his Government are not overthrown it will be a much greater wonder than if they are. Many of the principal agricultural and mining capitalists are engaged in this revolutionary enterprise, and they are scattering their money among the lower classes with a lavish hand. It is also strongly asseverated that the priests and Jesuits are making every effort to overthrow the present Government.

In Copiapo, the revolutionists under Gallo have from 1,200 to 1,800 men. The Government force against them, encamped somewhere on the line of the Copiapo and Caldera Railroad, does not exceed 350 men; and it is almost impossible to increase this number, as the Government cannot reinforce it from Valparaiso for fear of a rising there, and the people of the revolted district are not any of them disposed to get a bullet in their brains to please the President.

On Feb. 13, some fifty or sixty of the National Guard, of Santiago, revolted, and paraded the streets crying, "Death to Montt," endeavoring to bring over their companions. Several companies of Government troops were turned out against them, when after a few thrusts of bayonets on one side and a few balls from the other, they returned to their quarters.

On the 12th, the province of Aconcagua revolted, imprisoning the Intendente and his officers. Concepcion rose, supported by 800 monteneros, but was subjected to the Government after a fusilade of ten hours between the troops, the people and the monteneros, but only when the former were reinforced by troops from Chillian and Arauco. But Concepcion, at the last accounts, had again risen, and this second attempt will probably prove successful.

The people of Chillian and Talcahuano had also risen against the Government, supported by a party of monteneros, but it is said were defeated by the Government troops after many deaths on both sides. Alempart, who commanded the monteneros, obliged the officers of the town to stand in front of the Government troops, at the mouth of his cannon—so says a Government paper. One of these officers received seven wounds.

At San Felipe in the province of the Andes, the revolutionists have possession of the town, and the authorities have fled. In fact, the whole South is in revolt.

Garcia, the Minister of War, had gone personally to superintend the reduction of the revolutionists at Talca, who have a large force in an entrenched camp. The attack on Talca was to be made on the 16th February.

The monteneros of Carrera and Correa, to the number of 800 men, are in the immediate vicinity of Valparaiso, where a movement was hourly feared. "Mutiny and riot," says the Government organ, "are the order of the day."

The jails are full of prisoners in all the principal districts of the Republic. Don Anjel Custodio Gallos, Member of Congress, who is said to be the favorite of the revolutionists for President, Don Guillermo Matta, Don Benjamin Vicuria Mackenna and Don Isidoro Errazuriz have each been condemned to 6,000 maravedis fine and one year's exile.

Trade and commerce, of course, are completely paralyzed not only in Valparaiso, but in all Chili. Flour has risen to $4 25 ℔ quintal. Copper has realized $20 cash. Silver $10 31 ℔ marc. It is said a great deal of the present crop of wheat has been destroyed in the field by the Indians of the South, and a good deal will rot from lack of hands to gather it—the laborers being either fighting on one side or the other in the present contest. The Government papers thinks some has been destroyed and will rot, but not much. Freights from Valparaiso and the coast to England and the Continent range from 40s. to 45s., with but little doing. Exchange on England, 60 and 90 days, 46½ pence; on the United States, 60 and 90 days, 7 ℔ cent.

PARAGUAY.

The Constitutional, of Rosario, has the following:

"The Fulton, Harriet Lane, Bainbridge and Dolphin have arrived in our waters. In a few hours we may expect the Water Witch and Perry.

We have been informed, but we do not vouch for the fact, that with the exception of the Admiral's ship, the squadron will remain in our waters for some days.

In view of the rendezvous of the United States naval forces in our port, and of the neutrality which the Government of the Confederation observes in the question between the United States and Paraguay, the Chief of this Department, by order of His Excellency the Governor, has sent a polite note to Admiral Shubrick inquiring of him, in accordance with right and usage, as to the object of the rendezvous of said force at this port." MAIL FACILITIES ON THE WESTERN COAST OF SOUTH AMERICA—CONTINUATION AND PROGRESS OF THE REVOLUTION—EFFORTS OF THE CLERGY FOR PEACE—CAPT. NYE AND THE STEAMER INDEPENDENCE—MARINE AND COMMERCIAL NEWS—REPORTED CAPTURE OF TALCAHUANO.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Valparaiso, Monday, Feb. 7, 1859.

This is our mail day. Steamer from Panama due due at 5 P.M. We hope it will be the bearer of an American mail. However, it is always a matter of uncertainty. The Government at Washington has never been willing to pay the line of boats on this coast even the most moderate subsidy, though, as long ago as 1850, the Steam Company offered their services and sought a contract. The American Government replied they could not subsidize a foreign line. The boats come from Panama twice a month, and offered to receive the American mails at that point for delivery along this coast, as well as to receive the mails hence for the United States, for the superlatively moderate sum of $25,000 per annum, while for the same service the British Government pays £100,000.

This invaluable assistance to American commerce has till now been withheld for the reason above referred to, that the boats are British. I have often heard complaints made against the Steam Company as if the blame lay with them. Let all candid American readers judge in view of the facts just mentioned. If there was an American line, or if there was any real and good prospect of it, the case might be different; but when there is no other line, and but little likelihood of one, to decline the services of the British line is small and narrow policy indeed.

But I speak too fast. The Washington Government has not declined occupying the use of these boats. It has accepted the service but declined paying the Company for it. Letters are received in United States Post offices for this coast on pre-payment of 34 cents the half ounce letter, of which amount the Post-office retains ten cents as postage to Panama, and pays the balance, 24 cents, equivalent to one shilling sterling, to the British Government for receiving the letter at Panama and bringing it hither in British mail bags.

Accordingly the letters are sent to the American Consul at Panama, and he passes them to the British Consul at that point, who puts them in the mail from Southampton coming to this West coat.

Thus the Company who run these boats, get nothing, though they know all the while they are carrying the contents of the American mail. I have reason to think the Company are annoyed by what they have cause for considering an evasion.

In favor of the Company, more still is to be said; while the American Government declines to pay them even the diminutive subsidy I have mentioned, they still bring and take mail bags, entirely free of charge, for every United States ship-of-war on this coast. The storeship Fredonia, lying here, sends and receives her mails regularly by these British boats, and has done so for years.

Whether these observations will seem worthy of notice by the Postmaster at New-York, I know not but, at least, if failing to prompt to a surer and speedier postal arrangement to these parts, they may let your readers see that the want of accommodation is more to be attributed to the American Government than to this Steam Company.

Some may ask if we are not accommodated already by the existing scheme, even if the Company is uncompensated; to which I answer we are accommodated, but with great loss of time and irregularity. That a British mail will arrive this afternoon is quite sure, as sure as any human event can be; and the British merchant can count on it; but about an American mail there can be no certain calculation. It may come; and it may not. It is just a case of touch and go. If the mail from New-York reaches Panama in season, well; but if it be only a few hours late we shall not get our letters for a fortnight. All which might be remedied if the Department would make its contract directly with these boats. Then they would wait for the American mail to reach them, and we should be sure of obtaining it on the arrival of every boat.

The want of accommodation is however still greater for letters going hence. From New-York the connection is made about two-thirds of the time; but from this the connection is never made unless something has occurred to detain the Aspinwall boats. The rule is that passengers and mails going hence to New-York lie over at Panama two weeks. Certainly it does seem to be a wise suggestion, and one deserving the attention of the Department, that a contract be made with this Company, when it can be made on such favorable terms, and when it would yield so many advantages to American interests.

Valparaiso, Friday, Feb. 11, 1859.

Political affairs are in statu quo. The revolution is still on foot. The Government preparing but not ready for making the onset to put it down. The insurgents are still holding Copiapo, and, in fact, have also occupied Huasco. They also hold Talca, at the South. The occupation of Huasco is not very important, except as it shows they are unchecked; but that being the northern part of the country, desert for the most part, with limited resources, the revolt there can be kept within bounds by simply blockading the ports.

The point of danger is at Talca, and there the force of the Government are at present concentrated; the aim being to prevent the Southern (which are the fertile) provinces from rising and marching an overwhelming force on the capital. No paper is published here except one favorable to the Government; hence we only know what they see fit to tell us. But, so far as can be gathered, there are 800 or 1,000 under arms in Talca, and it will be a task of considerable difficulty to carry the place.

The first bloodshed has been in Chillira, where two sergeants were tried last week by court martial and shot, for attempting to bribe the soldiers to mutiny.

A day or two since, tidings arrived in the night that the condition of affairs in Maule (Constitucion) was very precarious. This is the port of Talca. Soldiers were immediately dispatched by steamer to that point.

In Talca, the leader of the insurgents is said to have levied heavy contributions on the inhabitants of the place, and many have fled.

The worst item of intelligence is, that some of the insurgent party have gone south into the country of the Indians, and stirred them up to make incursions into the precincts of civilization. These Indians are the Araucanos. Their force is variously estimated; they are quite barbarous, and very much feared. Their prowess may be judged from the fact that they drove the Spaniards out of their country three hundred years ago, and have held their ground ever since most indomitably.

That these savages have been set on to attack the settled districts on the frontier, I am informed is undeniable. If so, it may have the effect of alienating the sympathy which some have felt for the insurgents. I have no idea that a majority of the country are in favor of the Government; but I think men who have wished the opposition to succeed, will now be convinced that the success of the revolt will only be the precursor of wild and prostrating anarchy.

From Valdivia and Chiloe the latest news received is, that quiet and order prevail there.

The Government has just issued a decree ordering the formation of a new battalion of regular troops, to be called the Seventh.

Prayers have been offered in the Church of the Augustin Friars for the pacification of the country. The Archbishop of Santiago has also ordered petitions to be offered in the Cathedral for eight days, "to the Eternal, for the speedy termination of the political dissensions with which the country is menaced." In the daily papers some inculpate this gentleman on account of said "dissensions."

Captain Nye, formerly of the Pacific, of New-York, is here. He intends to sell the steamer Independence. She came out for a tug-boat, and is obtaining some good bits from the Government, in carrying dispatches and troops. Her price is $3,000 a trip. She makes 16 knots. Her owner is now at the Capital, probably negotiating for her sale to the Government. Perhaps the scheme of tugboats for the Straits of Magellan may obtain a hearing also, though at this juncture it is doubtful whether the Administration will be able to give attention to anything beside efforts for the pacification of the country. I wish the prospect of doing that speedily were more flattering than it is.

The following facts may be of use to some of your professional readers:

There are 17 licensed physicians in this city. Of these five are Englishmen, two Frenchmen, two Germans, one North American, three Chilians, one Spaniard, and two others whose nationality I am ignorant of. The oldest of these is Dr. Cox, whose diploma dates from 1813.

Foreign physicians coming here have to render an examination before the Medical Board in the Capital. This examination is conducted in Spanish exclusively. Without passing it, no one can practice in any part of the Republic, where any licensed physician resides, without his consent; although, in towns where there is no doctor, a new-comer, unexamined, may practice unhindered, provided he show proof that he has been admitted as a doctor somewhere else.

The number of lawyers in Valparaiso is twenty-three, including officers of the City Government and judges. Law is the most popular of all professions here. The foolish old Roman idea exerts an influence against young men entering the medical profession, as if it were not full caste. Celibacy is unquestionably an impediment with many young men that makes the Church repulsive; and hence the law is over-crowded. All the lawyers are natives, at least of Spanish America.

There are ten druggists. No man can be druggist and practicing physician at the same time. No man can own more than one drug-shop. Of the ten, five are Chilians, and five are Germans.

Valparaiso, Tuesday, Feb. 15, 1859.

The revolution is not yet overcome. The Government has increased the troops-of-the-line from 2,500 to 5,000 men. Some battalions of militia have been placed on footing and pay of the regular army. The Capital had a garrison of 1,500 under arms.

The affair at Talca is still unsettled. We hear that General Garcia, Minister of War, has made one or two successful movements, and carried some of the insurgents' positions. In fact, it has been announced that he had captured such portions of the city as brought his own position within one square of the plaza and main entrenchments of the rebels. From the bravery and energy of this officer it was expected the news would soon come that he had carried the place. But the news has not come, though four days have elapsed, from which it is evident the rebels are more numerous and better able to make resistance than the Government organs had been willing to admit. The beginning of the end I fear we have not seen yet.

In fact, news has just arrived of a new outbreak in San Felipe, the chief town of the Province of Aconcuagua. This occurred on Sunday, 15th inst. The Intendente was captured, after a reckless attempt to shoot him, in which his sister was wounded; he was then bound and fastened, and carried off a prisoner. The town remained in possession of the insurgents. Two hundred men were dispatched from Santa Rosa de los Andes, fifteen miles distant, a town at the Western base of the mountains. Another body of troops was sent instantly from the Capital, sixty miles distant. A third body, on receipt of the intelligence here, was sent by railroad to Quillota, thence to move to the scene of revolt also. With these combined forces, it is hoped peace will be restored in that direction.

As soon as the troops had left the Capital for San Felipe, a movement was attempted there also. A number of soldiers, militia, having been on drill on Sunday morning, rose against the Government. The rabble gathered about them in large numbers. An officer who attempted to dissuade them from this mutiny was shot, his name was B. S. Cañas; the wound proved quickly fatal. The troops of the Government, however, soon overpowered the insurgents, and took the most of them prisoners, just as they were en route, it is said, for the penitentiary, to open the doors for the criminals confined there.

From the southern provinces the latest intelligence has been more favorable. Talcahuano was in the hands of the rebels, headed by Alempatra, who has figured in other revolutions. But they had been repelled from Concepcion, and troops were marching against them from Chillira, who would soon overpower them.

From Copiapo the lapse of a week has brought nothing new. All the northern ports are declared, by decree of the President, strictly closed, except it be to foreign ships of war.

An indication of the state of feeling here may be gathered from the fact that meetings have been held here and in Santiago also to take steps for the enrolment of a "guard of order"—or, as called in England, special constables—to be composed of citizens and foreigners, simply for the object of preventing anything like popular pillage. This in fact is the form of fear that comes first to the minds of quiet people. The anxiety is lest, in the struggle of parties, the rabble get the upper hand for a day or two, or even for a few hours, and the town be sacked.

In Santiago such a guard is now in course of enrolment. J. T. Urmeneta and Jose Baeza have been appointed to the command. Here the same thing has been done; Nicholas Gatica and William Waddington being chosen.

The money that came last mail from England, first installment of Baring's loan, has not yet been landed. It was kept on board the British steamer Bolivia several days, and then was transferred to the British store ship, the Nereus, where it now is, under English protection, to the amount of $600,000.

In all this time of disturbance there is not a foreign ship-of-war within sight or call. No French, no British, no American. The whalers have begun to gather at Talcuhuano, though many have gone elsewhere for supplies because of the revolution. The number of British and American vessels is quite large, now anchored in the bay; a beef and pork ship being all that represents either of the respective navies.

I will give the names of the vessels now here:

American.—Ships Alexander, Oracle, Beverly, Michael Angelo, Northern Chief, Susan L. Fitzgerald, John Sydney. Barks Evadne, Scotland, Hugh Birkhead and M. L. Frank. Steamers Polynesian and Independence. Brig Jowsen (here since April, 1858, loaded with munitions of war.)

British.—Ships Ottillia, Jane Price, Spectre, John Norman, Llama, Don Diego and Bogotá—James City, (with sappers and miners for Vancouver's Island, just sailed.) Barks Gladiator, Eliza Moore, Nithsdale, Yanthe, Louisa Bragington, Queen Bee, Inca, Britain's Pride, Voyager, Queen of the South, Maggie, Skimmer of the Seas, Imogene, Annie Warrall and Sea Wave. Brigs Saint Ogilvie, Britain's Pride, Hugh Black. Steamer Bolivia.

The prices of grain and flour have gone up within a few days, in consequence of the alarm occasioned by the inroads of Indians on the Southern frontier coupled with the fact that a large proportion of the laboring people in and about the seat of the civil war, are of necessity drawn away from their agricultural labors to the less productive occupations of camp drill and warlike evolution. On this latter account there can be no doubt that many of the land-owners will be unable to harvest their grain.

Feb. 16, 1859.—The latest news is, that Talcahuano has been retaken by the Government, and that a serious street fight had occurred in Concepcion, in which the insurgents, 800 strong, had been put to rout. SOUTH PACIFIC.

APPEARANCE OF ECUADOR — THE GUAYAQUIL BLOCKADE—VISIT OF THE COMMANDANT TO SHIP CYANE—SHIPPING AT PANAMA.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

United States Ship Cyane,
Panama, Wednesday, March 16, 1859.

We left Callao Feb. 14, 1859, and arrived at Payta a few days after. The country around it looks desolate, sand and dust being its prominent points. All the houses, except a few, inhabited by the different Consuls and Government officials, are low huts made out of cane and mud, more like a poor Arabian settlement than what we would expect of the rich mines of Peru. We remained only a few hours, there being nothing of interest to detain us, and arrived on the 23d February at Puna in Ecuador. Naturally our 22d was spent quietly on board ship, without any show or celebration to manifest the greatness of our respect to the hero of Independence.

Ecuador has given us a new idea of the fertility of the South American States. Here everything is green, vegetation seems to be abundant, and it would only require the labor of a few of our Western farmers to equalize it with the rich soil of Orange County.

Puna is a small village of no note, on the island of the same name, and opposite to the mouth of the Guayaquil. The houses like all others here are made of cane, and raised from the earth at a height of seven feet; the reason probably is to prevent the frequent vermin from molesting the inhabitant. Although the country seems to be fertile yet there are a very few produces to be had; Yankee activity and energy seems to be wanting everywhere. Soon after arriving we found out that our Consul, Mr. Game, did not reside here, but a little below at his hacienda in Punta Spaniol. After sending a boat for him he visited our ship.

We had hardly retired to our beds that night, when we were aroused by the beat of the drums for general quarters. Great excitement naturally prevailed, and everybody had his own surmises as to its purport. Guayaquil is still blockaked by the Peruvian squadron under Admiral Engrio Mariatigi, who has command of a frigate, three small steamers and a store-ship. It appears that he had heard of our being in the bay, and a steamer was dispatched for the purpose. Her lights were seen about 11 P. M., and she had in tow another large vessel, which we could not make out. On their approach we beat to quarters, and Commander Lockwood gave the order to clear away for action. Our boys worked pretty smartly on this occasion, as everything was reported ready in thirteen minutes. The steamer with her tow soon approached us, and a boat was sent on board of us. Lights were procured, and the officer in charge of the boat boarded us. I think by his looks that he was a little astonished and perplexed. Although he did not risk to go any further, yet on the urgent request of Lieut. Morris, he went into the cabin, a performance which was rather embarrassing as it was very dark, and he was often obliged to lift his legs over the different gun-tackles stretched across the deck.

Commander Lockwood here received him, and at his soliciting to know the name of the vessel whence he came, the reply was the Peruvian war steamer Eucatel. Then the boarding officer said that he thought we were an American merchant ship, and that he wanted to inform us in that case, that Guayaquil was blockaded, and that as such we could not go any further. Commander Lockwood replied that there was no blockade here, and if he had charge of a merchant ship he should certainly go on. Then the Peruvian, with that old Spanish answer, in saying nothing, but throwing back his head and whispering, hum, bid good night, and left, rather more satisfied in leaving than in coming on board. Both the Peruvian vessels left afterwards, and the next morning we got under weigh for Panama, where we arrived on the 11th March, after a long yet pleasant passage. The health of Panama at present is good, it being what is called the dry season. The United States ship St. Mary's, Commander Thorburn; Her Britannic Majesty's steamer Vixen, Commander Gardner, and the French frigate Andromède, bearing the broad pennant of Admiral Bonard, are the only vessels in port. G. M. McCluney, the Flag-officer of the Home Squadron, is here on a visit, having left the Roanoke at Aspinwall.

The United States steamer Brooklyn, Captain D. G. Fragut, and the United States storeship Relief, Commander Berry, have both arrived at Aspinwall.

The flag-ship Merrimac is expected here at the end of the month.

We leave to-day for Realejo, where the Merrimac, Decatur and Vandalia are awaiting our arrival.

On dit, we are to remain there for several months.

VISIT OF THE CYANE TO CALLAO—RETURN OF POWDER TO THE PERUVIAN GOVERNMENT.

Callao, Monday, Feb. 14, 1859.

The United States ship Cyane, Samuel Lockwood, Commander, arrived here on the 5th inst. from Caldera. Her arrival created quite a satisfaction on the part of the American population. It appears she was ordered here by Commodore J. C. Long, the Flag-officer of the Pacific Squadron, to return the powder which had been borrowed some time ago by the United States ship Decatur. The Peruvian Government at first refused to accept it, under the plea of courtesy; but Commander Lockwood not being satisfied with that excuse, sent it ashore any how, and therefore leaves no claim on our Government.

The English corvette Havana and the French corvette Provinçale are in port.

NEW GRANADA.

The Panama Carnival—Naval News—Meeting of the Bogota Congress—Monetary Situation of New-Granada—Mons. Belly at Aspinwall—General William Walker again on the Isthmus.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Panama, Friday, March 18, 1859.

We have but little local news. The coarse carricature of the Continental carnivals has ended, and Lent succeeds, a season of great dullness in Catholic countries.

The United States sloop-of-war Cyane arrived here on the 7th, and sailed on the 16th for Realejo. Since she left Norfolk on the 24th of September last, the Cyane has visited Rio Janeiro, Valparaiso, Coquimbo, Caldera, Huasco, Callao, Paita, Tumbez and Puna in the Guayquil River. Her officers and crew are in the enjoyment of good health. The following is a list of the former:

Commander Samuel Lockwood; Lieuts. James H. Spotts, D. R. Lambert, Geo. N. Morris, James Stitwell, A. J. McCartney; Purser, James A. Murray; Surgeon, A. S. Williams; Assistant-Surgeon, Charles E. Lining; Marine Officer, A. N. Baker; Captain's Clerk, Upsher; Purser's Clerk, Float.

The St. Mary's remains in port. All well.

The French frigate Andromède, of fifty guns, the flag ship of Admiral Bonard, arrived here on the 6th, and sailed on the 16th, it is said for Punta Arenas de Costa Rica and Realejo. The French steam-brig La Megère left for Mexico on the 10th.

The steam-corvette Vixen came to Panama, after having landed Sir William Gore Ouseley at Punta Arenas de Costa Rica, and was taking in water and coals yesterday at the Island of Taboga. One of her boats, containing an officer and four men, was carelessly capsized in the Bay on the 16th. After righting the boat filled, and the men remained in her two hours, with the water nearly up to their chins, until they were discovered from the decks of the Golden Age, when the steam-tug of the Taboga was sent to their rescue. Commander Watkins, of the Age, and Lieutenant Moore, of the St. Mary's, assisted in the rescue. Had a very few moments more intervened, all hands in the boat would have been lost.

The flag-ship Merrimac is still at Realejo, but is expected to leave for Panama about the 25th of the present month. The Decatur sailed for San Juan del Sur on Feb. 23, and was ordered to be back to Realejo by the 15th inst. She has, probably, ere this sailed for either San Francisco or Panama, as her cruise of two years is nearly or quite up.

The flag-ship Roanoke, of the Home squadron, is at Aspinwall. The new steam-sloop Brooklyn arrived at Aspinwall on the 13th. I believe it is understood among her officers that, as a war-ship, she is a failure. She goes to Porto Bello for water, and will sail in about four days for Vera Cruz. I understand that Mr. McLane, or whoever may be appointed United States Minister to Mexico, is to live on board the Brooklyn until matters assume some permanent shape in tha distracted country.

The supply-ship Relief arrived at Aspinwall on Saturday, and will return to New-York shortly, viá Key West.

The British mail steamer Callao left Panama for Valparaiso and intermediate Peruvian and Chilean ports on her regular day, the 15th, six hours before the American passengers and mails from New-York to Aspinwall reached Panama. The European freight of the Callao, about 600 packages, was also left behind! The train of cars bringing it to Panama got off the track, on the 14th, and the agency refused to wait two or three hours over the regular time to get it on board! When we take into consideration that these steamers are twenty-one days in making the voyage to Valparaiso, nine days of which is consumed in getting to Callao, it would seem that the Company might afford to let their vessels exceed just a very little the rated time of seven and a half knots an hour, rather than disappoint all their customers on the route in the receipt of their goods and freight. The fact is, an American line is sadly needed on this route, in order to quicken the ideas of Mr. Bull a little.

Our dates from Bogota are to the 27th February. Congress met on the first, and was organized by the election of Señors Julio Arboleda for President of the Senate, and Francisco J. Zaldua as Vice-President; and Señors Joaquin Posada Gutierrez and Gregorio Obregon for President and Vice-President of the House.

The President's Message is a rather lengthy but well-written paper. No allusion is made in it to pending questions with the United States, save in the second paragraph, as follows:

"The Convention with the Government of the United States upon the acontecimientos of Panama in 1856, has probably already been acted upon by the Senate of the Union. The other questions pending with that Government are under pacific and amicable discussion."

President Ospina calculates, in his message, the income from all sources for the present fiscal year at $1,756,000, and the cost of carrying on the Government at $2,183,166—not a very encouraging statement to those American citizens who are expecting to finger from $400,000 to $800,000 as damages, under the Cass-Herran Convention for loss of life, limb and property in the Panama massacre. The President says further that this deficiency of $427,166 is not the real amount of the deficiency. He computes it, if the amount of the floating debt falling due and interest are paid, at $884,292. And this, he says, is no the real deficiency, either. He says if the interest due on the foreign debt, up to December last, amounting to $2,644,663 is to be paid, the deficiency will be $3,528,955; "but the payment of this sum," he adds, "is evidently impossible."

But there is one consolation for the President, there is no danger of a revolution. Where there are no soldiers, revolutions are quite out of the question. The whole army of New-Granada for the present year, on foot, is nominally 511 men—that is, 351 in Bogota and 160 in Panama. Of those in Panama, about one-third have already cut stick, and at Bogota, the ratio of tired soldiers is probably but little less.

The Congress of Bogota has passed an amnesty law for the benefit of those engaged in the last revolution of 1854, which has been approved by the President. The House of Representatives has resolved to accuse before the Senate the late Ministers of the Supreme Court of Justice, Señores Jose Maria de la Torre Uribe and Octavio Salatan for mal-administration of the law.

M. Belly arrived at Aspinwall last Saturday in the British steamer from Southampton, having with him a corps of engineers and other employes, to the number of about thirty, to make the preliminary survey for the opening of a ship canal across Nicaragua, between the two oceans. M. Belly's Chief Engineer is named Gamond, M. B. avers that he has procured subscriptions to his scheme to the amount of 70,000,000 of francs. If this be so, Belly, Gamond and Marcoleta, allowing the subscribers to pay in 10 per cent. of the amount, will, after spending 2,000,000, to throw dust in their eyes, have the comfortable little sum of 5,000,000 of francs to divide between them. M. Belly says a vessel is soon to follow him with material and appliances for carrying on the work.

Gen. William Walker, who is tolerably well-known in the United States and other parts, arrived at Aspinwall in the steamship Granada, from New-Orleans viá Havana, on the 15th, under the name of William Wilson, and took passage on the 16th in the California steamer the Golden Age. He entered himself as a steerage passenger at New-Orleans, but nevertheless he occupied a good cabin stateroom. The General is better in flesh than when he last passed through here from Nicaragua, and has got rid of that yellow, sickly hue of face he brought from that interesting Republic. It is rather suspected here that he is again turning his longing "blue-grey eyes" towards his first love, Sonora. Gen. Bruno Von Natzmer accompanies Walker.

James W. Simonton, Esq., the well-known correspondent of the Times, arrived on the Illinois, and sailed on the 16th in the Golden Age for California. He goes to take the editorial charge of the San Francisco Bulletin, the paper established by the ill-fated James King of William, of which Mr. S. is half proprietor.

Latest.—The Sonora arrived at Panama at 9 o'clock this morning with 550 passengers. The Orizaba left San Francisco two hours after the Sonora, and will probably be in to-morrow evening or next day. Some say she has 550 passengers—others, that she has 800. The Tehuantepec steamer had 17 passengers down. The up-steamer failed to connect at Acapulco. It is said the river boat could not get within 30 miles of Suchil on account of the low stage of water in the river, and it is not yet at its lowest. On dit, the English have annexed the Feejee Islands. CENTRAL AMERICA.

Presidential Election in Honduras—Progress in Guatemala—Dissensions in Salvador—Diplomacy at the Capital of Nicaragua—Costa Rica.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Panama, Saturday, March 19, 1859.

The Panama Railroad Company's steamship Columbus, Capt. Ludwig, arrived here on the 8th from Central American ports. The dates from Guatemala are to Feb. 26; from Salvador to the 1st March; from Realejo, Nicaragua, to the 2d, and from Punta Arenas de Costa Rica to the 4th March. The Columbus brings a full cargo, consisting of 1,255 seroons indigo, 5,350 hides, 850 bags coffee, 72 cases balsam, 70 packages and 44 bales deer skins. She left the United States ship Merrimack at Realejo. The Decatur had gone to San Juan del Sur, with orders to return to Realejo on the 15th March. The French frigate La Serieuse was at La Union in Salvador.

HONDURAS.

An election for President of the State is to take place in May, in the place of Guardiola. It is said General Xatruch, a brother of the General who commanded the Honduras force against Walker in the Nicaragua fillibuster foray, will be elected. There is no other news.

GUATEMALA.

President Carrera was visiting his silver and lead mines in the Altos, in the vicinity of Chiantla. Works and machinery for washing, crushing, smelting and refining are in the course of erection in these mines. The mines are known to cover an area of nine leagues, and are said to be very rich.

Several new roads are being constructed from the richest districts in the interior to the Pacific, which, when completed, will give a great impetus to agriculture and commerce. A great many new coffee estates have been made in Guatemala, and in a few years the export is expected to be equal to that of Costa Rica, which amounts to an average of 100,000 quintals a year.

The iron wharf, 30 feet wide and 900 feet long, at the port of San José, is to be immediately commenced. Also, an iron bridge over the Achiquate River, on the coast route.

In the Capital, the magnificent new theatre, the finest in Spanish America, with the exception of that at Havana and the one in Mexico, is nearly finished. It is said the Government is also about to pull down the temporary Government house now in use, and erect a fine palace in its stead.

The two Mexican servants who murdered the three children of Mr. Gibb, in order to rob his house, have been executed.

The Republic was quiet. The cholera had entirely disappeared.

The Columbus brings intelligence that a revolution had broken out in the Mexican State of Chiapas, on the border of Guatemala. On the 20th January, Ortega, the former Prefect of the City of Comitan, who had been displaced by the superior authorities, made an attack on the place, which was taken after a fierce assault of two hours, with a loss of between 20 and 30 lives. The house, store and property of James McKinney, an American trader residing in the city, were sacked and burned, and much other property destroyed. The insurgents shortly retired, and it was feared they meditated an attack on the towns of Soconusco, and Tixtla Grande. President Carrera had dispatched a Guatemala force to protect property on the frontier.

Señors N. de Pareda, Mexican Minister, and Zembrano, Spanish Consul, had left Guatemala to embark at Isabel for Havana.

SALVADOR.

In my last I wrote that President Santin, a very enlightened and liberal man, had retired from the Presidency of Salvador, ostensibly on account of ill health, but really because he had become disgusted with the continued opposition of Gen. Barrios and his clique, and had left the State in charge of the Vice-President, Señor Joaquin Guzman. Barrios is a son-of-law of Guzman, and a very unquiet, ambitious man. He will undoubtedly soon be President. Not being satisfied with getting rid of Santin, Barrios brought serious charges of abuse of authority against him, which the Legislative Assembly voted to entertain. In return, President Santin preferred charges against Barrios of having arbitrarily imprisoned two magistrates, with tampering with the army, with having banished various persons, and with interfering with the liberty of the press. These accusations were referred to a Committee on Petitions, who decided that the President himself being impeached, could not bring a charge against another person whilst that against him was pending. The Committee enter into a long defence of Gen. Barrios, and bring serious charges against the President. The report was unanimously adopted. Gen. Barrios, you will remember, is the officer who undertook to get up a revolution with his regiment on his return with it from the Nicaragua fillibuster war. The Legislature, on the 8th of February, conferred upon Barrios the rank of General of Division "for his civic virtues, his services to the State, and his patriotism."

A decree of Vice-President Guzman constitutes the City of San Salvador again the capital of the Republic, instead of Santa Tecla, to which place it was removed after the great earthquake of 1854.

The Sardinian bark Carlota is advertised to take freight from San José to San Francisco.

NICARAGUA.

Sir William Gore Ouseley, having concluded his negotiations in Nicaragua, left Realejo on the 3d of March, in the British war steamer Vixen for Punta Arenas de Costa Rica, and arrived there next day.

The Nicaragua Congress was still in session at Managua, and would finish its business the last day of the present month.

Gen. Lamar was at the capital, doing nothing politically. The general impression is that the Cass-Yrisari Treaty will not be approved. The people as well as Government seem to entertain the idea that both England and France will support them in resisting the demands of the United States.

Llorente, the Bishop of Costa Rica, who was expelled by President Mora for refusing to comply with the laws of the Republic, had arrived in Nicaragua and been received with extraordinary honors, both by the people and officials of the country. The streets were strewn with flowers as he passed, triumphal arches were raised, the bells rung, and such other demonstrations made as are usual on the entrance of a great conqueror to his native city. Such a stupid, church ridden people scarcely deserve a better fate than to live under Walker and his rowdies.

COSTA RICA.

This little Republic is tranquil and contented as usual. There is no political or other news of interest by this mail.

Señor Crisanto Medina, who nearly a year ago established a chartered Bank of Deposit and Discount at San José, has announced that he will close it for the present, reserving to himself the right granted him by his Government concession of opening it again under more favorable auspices. Señor Medina met with a great deal of opposition from persons jealous of the commercial advantage such an institution in successful operation would give him over them.

In Punta Arenas a severe epidemic had broken out, which carried off a number of persons. Coffee had advanced to $11 and $12 per quintal, with quick sales. The article was coming in slowly on account of the sickness at Punta Arenas. Hides brought from 16c. to 17c. There was considerable timber going to Europe, from lack of other freight. F. W. R.

NEWS FROM ASPINWALL—THE NEW CONSUL AT GREYTOWN—NAVAL INTELLIGENCE—ARRIVAL OF GEN. WALKER AND M. BELLY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Aspinwall, Friday, March 18, 1859.

By the steamer Star of the West, which arrived at this port on the 29th ult., came Mr. Thomas S. Bell, the newly appointed United States Commercial Agent for San Juan del Norte—or Greytown—which continues under British protection and jurisdiction. This appointment has caused considerable surprise out here, from the fact that Mr. Bell was one of the principal actors of the party—at the head of which was Colonel Kinney—which went to San Juan del Norte from this place in the bark Osprey, and landed there on the 17th April, 1858.

It will be recollected that this party, immediately upon landing from the bark, hauled down the Mosquito flag, and hoisted that of Nicaragua; deposed the Mayor, and Kinney was installed as the "Governor." The Mosquito flag being under the protection of Her Britannic Majesty's Consul, that functionary immediately protested to Mr. Cotrell, the United States Commercial Agent, against such acts being committed by citizens of the United States. Mr. Cotrell referred the British Consul to Captain Kennedy, commanding the United States ship Jamestown, for his interposition. Shortly thereafter a general row occurred on shore, and Kinney's party were arrested and held in durance vile by the negro militia. At this stage of the proceedings, the English Consul hoisted the English colors upon the public flag-staff, showing conclusively that England had never abandoned her pretensions of a Protectorate over the Mosquito Coast, which she was bound to do under the obligations of the "Clayton-Bulwer Treaty." Captain Kennedy remonstrated strongly against this proceeding on the part of the British Consul, and the flag was hauled down. Kinney's party were roughly handled, and their lives being in great jeopardy, Captain Kennedy interposed solely to prevent the effusion of blood, and at his suggestion the party were released upon condition that they should at once leave the town. Captain Kennedy, in that spirit of prudence and kindness which actuated his motives and movements from the commencement of the affair, provided for these men on board the Jamestown until they could be sent back to Aspinwall on the English mail-steamer. They were so returned.

Kinney and his party were regarded as "fillibusters," although they went to San Juan del Norte ostensibly upon private business matters. It is certainly strange, under all these circumstances, that our Government should have now selected one of the principal actors in the disturbances which followed there, as the Commercial Agent to reside at San Juan del Norte. All the facts were promptly communicated by Captain Kennedy to the Navy Department, and he deserved much praise in putting an end to those difficulties without any blood being shed.

The new United States steam sloop-of-war Brooklyn, Capt. David G. Farragut, arrived here on the 12th inst., last from Port-au-Prince and Aux-Cayes, (Hayti,) where she had been instructed to proceed, (after her visit to Beaufort,) to look out for our commercial interests in that quarter. She is a fine model, and steams well, but her rig is not what it should be, and will have to be altered. Her officers speak highly of her sea qualities. She is now receiving her coal and other necessary supplies, and will, in a day or two, leave directly for Vera Cruz, where, I learn, she will be placed under the orders of the new United States Minister to Mexico. Everything was quiet at Hayti, and the people were much pleased with the rule of President Geffrard.

The Brooklyn will first have to go to Porto Bello for the purpose of filling up her water, as none can be procured here,—this being the dry season.

The United States store-ship Relief, Commander Roger Perry (arrived here on the 13th, and immediately commenced supplying the Roanoke and Brooklyn with provisions and stores. So soon as the other vessels of the Home Squadron upon this coast, and those upon the Pacific, can be furnished with supplies, the Relief will leave for New-York viá Key West. I understand she will leave here about the last of this month.

General William Walker, the fillibuster, arrived here by the Granada, and left with the passengers for California the same afternoon. He came from New-Orleans among the second-cabin passengers, under the assumed name of Wilson. I am induced to believe that several hundred men belonging to his party came down in the Illinois, for her passengers were unlike those which I have previously observed passing through here. A finer and more robust set of men have never before crossed this Isthmus, and I should not be surprised to learn that Walker and these "passengers" left the Golden Age at Acapulco.

Monsieur Belly too reached here on the 12th inst., by the English Mail steamer from St. Thomas, and was accompanied by a large number of engineers and laborers to commence operations on his Nicaragua Canal. There were some 300 packages belonging to the same party on board the steamer. They all went Smith vs. Donnelly.—Reference ordered to H. M. Robinson.

The People vs. Hastings.—Motion granted.

Sentence of James Stephens, for the Poisoning of his Wife, Postponed.

COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER.

Before the Hon. Judge Roosevelt.

Every avenue leading to the Court-room was yesterday thronged with people, and immediately on the opening of the doors the room was filled. Stephens was brought from the Tombs in a carriage, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Sophia Hannah, her husband, James Hannah, their daughter, Maria Hannah, and the husband of Isabella Bennett. "Little Bella" was not there, neither were Sophia and Fanny Bell. About a score of ladies connected with the Twenty-seventh-street Methodist Church were present. The pastor of the Church was also in attendance. The public interest, since the verdict of the Jury, seemed to have increased. If the Court-room could have accommodated three times the number of people who thronged its walls, it would yet have yielded insufficient space, and numbers must have gone away disappointed.

Stephens had recovered somewhat of the equanimity which he exhibited on the first week of the trial. He appeared to have confidence in the exertions of his counsel to obtain a new trial.

When Judge ROOSEVELT took his seat upon the bench, Mr. Ashmead (of counsel for Stephens) read an affidavit, signed by himself, and by Messrs. Cushing and Ullmann, his coadjutors, which set forth in labored legal phrase that sufficient time had not been allowed them to prepare for the bill of exceptions, and for other matters, including the alleged tampering with the Jury, which their position, as the defenders of Stephens, demanded. Moreover, as the Court had decided to allow the stenographic report of Roberts and Warburton to be used in the place of notes taken by the Court, they (the counsel for defence) wished to be allowed time to study that report, in aid of their bill of exceptions. About three quarters of an hour was consumed in getting this matter adjusted, and finally the Judge postponed further proceedings till Thursday, at noon. Some idea may be formed of the extent and laboriousness of this trial, when it is stated that Mr. Roberts' report, which is to be published, has already reached nearly four thousand pages in manuscript.

PERUVIANS.—The Commissioner of the Pension Office states that the amount necessary to satisfy the immediate demands against the Bureau is $29,760,710; that the average sum annually requisite thereafter would be about $6,800,000 for ten years. That the aggregate sum necessary to extinguish all claims that may be preferred under the proposed bill was not less than $103,000,000, and that the increase in the clerical force of the office under the proposed bill will be about double the present number, and the expense of such increase, including contingencies and the compensation of agents for paying pensions about $355,000 per annum.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The mails from the Isthmus, Western Coast of South America and North Pacific, brought by the Illinois from Aspinwall, March 19, and transferred to the Granada, at Havana, in consequence of an accident to the former steamer, arrived in this City yesterday, in the afternoon. Our correspondence, from all points with which we are connected by this important channel, is of more than ordinary interest.

Our dates from Bogota, New-Granada, are to February 27. Congress met on the 1st of February. The President, in his message, alludes only cursorily to the outstanding treaty with the United States, expressing the hope that, aside from the Panama dispute, the pending questions may reach an early and peaceful solution. The estimates for the annual budget exhibit a deficiency of $300,000; a discouraging showing for those Americans who expect to receive three-fourths of a million indemnity from the Cass-Herran Convention. The State is in the enjoyment of entire tranquillity.

From Panama we have the arrival of M. Belly and his corps of flying engineers reported. General Walker passed over the Isthmus en route to California by the last steamer. The United States corvette Cyane sailed from Panama on the 16th for Realejo. The St. Mary's remains at the former port. The French frigate Andromède, the flag-ship of Admiral Bonard, had left Panama for Punta Arenas, Costa Rica. H. B. M. steamer Vixen was coaling at the island of Taboga. The Roanoke and Brooklyn are at Aspinwall, the latter reaching that port on the 13th.

The intelligence from Central America is unimportant. In May, an election for President of Honduras takes place. The Executive of Guatemala is devoting itself with great energy to internal improvements, developing mining and agricultural interests, and furnishing new facilities to trade and intercourse. The Legislature of Salvador has been engaged in a controversy between the late President Santin and General Barrios. Articles of impeachment were preferred against the former. The seat of Government has been removed to the City of San Salvador, the former capital.

Letters from San Salvador apprise us of the movements of the U. S. sloop-of-war Decatur, in prosecution of orders to intercept a fillibustering expedition, reported to have been fitted out in California with a view to invading Nicaragua. The Decatur made every preparation to receive the marauders, but after protracted vigilance and diligence, learned the falsity of the rumor. The prompt action of the vessel had, however, done much to remove the anti-American prejudices of the Central Americans, who were lavish of courtesies to the officers and men. The authorities of La Union had been specially obliging and hospitable.

Sir Wm. Gore Ouseley, having completed his labors in Nicaragua, had gone to Costa Rica. Gen. Lamar remains inactive at Leon, where the sentiment is decidedly unfavorable to the ratification of the Cass-Yrissari treaty. Llorente, the exiled Bishop of Costa Rica, had been received with prodigal honor in Nicaragua.

The hostilities between Ecuador and Peru are as languidly prosecuted as ever. The Peruvian steamers are still anchored before Guayaquil, maintaining a blockade, and effecting some seizures for its violation. One of the steamers had approached near enough to the city to bring its guns to bear upon the Government house; but had not proceeded to attack. President Robles had caused great dissatisfaction by removing the seat of Government, temporarily, from Quito to Guayaquil.

From Peru we have word of uninterrupted tranquillity, although the popular discontent is daily increasing. It is thought, indeed, that the Administration of Gen. Castilla can last but a short time. One source of urgent difficulty is the diminished receipts at the Treasury owing to the remarkable decline of the traffic in guano. The movements of Echenique have ceased to excite alarm.

The United States sloop-of-war Cyane visited Callao, Feb. 5, to return a quantity of powder which the Decatur had borrowed from the Peruvian Government. It was with difficulty the officials could be persuaded to receive it.

The intelligence from Bolivia presents no points of importance. The Government is at present at Orura, whither our Minister, Mr. John Cotton Smith, was about to proceed from La Paz.

Our dates from Valparaiso are to Feb. 16. The revolution still extended: the Northern States of Chili being in the hands of the Liberals. At Talca the Government troops and the insurgents were in daily conflict, disputing the city street by street. The insurgents had carried everything before them at San Felipe. In the South, however, the Government forces had succeeded in regaining Talcuahuano and making their positions good at other points. Six hundred thousand dollars of the loan recently obtained through Messrs. Baring, in England, had arrived, but was retained on board the British steamers. The unsettled state of affairs in Chili had paralyzed all business. Nearly every port of the Republic had been closed by decrees of Government, except to foreign men-of-war.

A revolution is reported to have broken out in Chiapas, the southernmost State of Mexico, on the 20th January. The insurgents attacked the City of Comitan, and after a sharp conflict possessed themselves of the place. The house, store and property of James McKinney, an American merchant, were pillaged and burned, and other property destroyed.

Our advices from Sonora, to March 7, indicate the withdrawal of Pequiera's troops from Mazatlan, owing to the large reinforcements the Conservatives had brought into the field. The U. S. sloop-of-war Vandalia had left Guaymas, giving place to the Saranac.

Later intelligence from the Sandwich Islands states that the volcanic eruption, previously noticed, is the most extraordinary phenomena that has been witnessed in that region for fifty years. The Honolulu papers announce the arrival of the missionary brig Morning Star at that port for repairs. This is the vessel built by the contributions of the Sunday School children on the Atlantic States, and sent out to the Micronesian Islands. It appears she is a wretched swindle; her timbers being rotten, and the materials used in her construction being the refuse of the ship-yards.

Our correspondent at Bridgetown, Barbadoes, wishes information regarding recent changes in the insular tariff, favoring various articles of American export. The Hon. Mr. Hincks, the Governor of the Windward Islands, left on the 13th inst. for England. The sugar crop of the island was less than the ordinary average. The general health is good.

The insurrection previously reported as existing in the State of Coro, Venezuela, has been very nearly extinguished through the activity of the Government. An agent of Monagas, conveying arms to the insurgents from Trinidad, had been overhauled by a British vessel-of-war, and the munitions seized.

In California the greatest excitement prevailed on the reception of intelligence that the Pacific Railroad bill had been defeated in Congress. The San Francisco Press is filled with violent articles, denouncing Congress, and going so far as to threaten secession. The severance of California from the Union is hinted at in unmistakable terms. The difficulties between the miners and the Chinese continued in an aggravated form. Some hundreds of Chinamen had been expelled by force from Shasta County, and some riots, accompanied by bloodshed, had occurred. The latest intelligence from Southern California was unfavorable, both for the prospects of the miners on the Colorado and for the movements in favor of a new State. The sporting circles had been excited by a ten-mile race in the San Francisco Course, between Princess and Glencoe Chief, in which the former won the purse of $9,000 in a little over 29 minutes. The United States steamer Toucey had been successfully launched from Mare Island Navy-yard. A report had been introduced in the State Senate in favor of releasing the sureties of the defaulting State Treasurer, Bates, who absconded with $124,000. The coinage of silver dollars at the Mint, for shipment, was urged by the mercantile interest. The Granada brings $1,032,000 in treasure.

The Royal Mail steamship Niagara, which arrived at Halifax on Sunday, reached Boston last evening, and her mails will reach this City this morning by the Stonington boat. The packages for the Associated Press came forward by the New-Haven train, which reached this City about midnight. The very full summary of the news published yesterday morning, however, comprised everything of interest.

Our news from Fraser River states that the prospects at the mines were good; that the Governor had designated Queensborough as the capital of the Territory; and that the American residents were very indignant at the refusal of the Governor to permit the public celebration of the anniversary of Washington's Birthday. The fact of this refusal was noticed yesterday in our Overland Mail dispatches. We publish this morning the correspondence on the subject, together with the public protest of American citizens in the Territory.

There is a curious report from Utah, in the correspondence of a San Francisco paper, to the effect that Brigham Young keeps within-doors through fear of his life; that several of the leading Mormons are apostatizing; and that life and property are unsafe in the Territory.

The previous reports respecting the wreck of the British gun-boat Jaseur on the southern coast of Cuba are confirmed. The only persons known to have survived, twenty in number, had been brought into Santa Cruz (Cuba) by some fishermen. They had been ten days without food. Captain-General Concha had dispatched one steamer to convey them to Jamaica, and another to explore the coast for a missing party of thirty, whose fate is uncertain.

Accounts from the Kansas gold mines are very favorable, and the rush of emigrants for the auriferous region is stated to be something beyond precedent. The average yield with rockers is from four to ten dollars per day to each man. Companies are forming to convey water from the Platte River to Cherry Creek, a distance of twenty miles.

Our Special Washington Correspondent states, on the authority of private letters received from Mexico, that a secret treaty has been negotiated with Sardinia by Miramon, by which he agrees to sell to the former the States of Tabasco, Tehuantepec and Chiapa for five millions of dollars—the payment to be guaranteed by France. The intention of Sardinia is to inaugurate an emigration movement on the colony plan formerly arranged with Zuloaga. Our Government has received as yet no notification of any such arrangement.

Considerable business of interest was done by the Legislature yesterday, including the election of two Regents of the University. Mr. Robert F. Hale, of Essex, was elected in the place of Mr. Greig, deceased, and the Rev. George B. Cheever in the place of William Cullen Bryant, resigned. The Democratic candidates were Charles O'Conor, Esq., and John Willard, Esq., of Saratoga. In the Senate, the Special Committee on Mr. Wetmore's claim to the seat recently declared vacant—Mr. Mandeville's—presented three distinct reports. Two of them were in favor of Mr. Wetmore's right to the seat, and the other was against it. They were ordered to be printed. The Metropolitan Police bills were postponed until Tuesday next. The Assembly's Central Park bills were reported favorably. In the Assembly, the bill to provide for ascertaining and collecting the damages caused by the burning of the Quarantine buildings was passed, 80 to 25. The Railroad Committee reported against the bill providing for the publication of the rates of railroad freight, regulating way freight, tolls, &c. A motion was made to disagree with the report, and to refer the bill to a Select Committee, and it was agreed to, 57 to 25. A large number of bills were ordered to a third reading, and several measures of importance were passed.

A collision occurred on the Ohio River, on Sunday night, between the steamers Nat Holmes and David Gibson, by which a shocking loss of life was occasioned. The Nat Holmes was bound from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, with one hundred and fifty passengers, principally emigrants from Pike's Peak, and the David Gibson was bound from New-Orleans to Cincinnati, with but few passengers. They came in collision opposite Aurora, Ind., and both boats immediately sunk. At least fifteen or twenty persons are supposed to have lost their lives, and one account [illegible] the number still higher.

A collision occurred on the Hudson River, about 8½ o'clock Monday evening, between the steamer North America and the sloop Stephen Raymond, of Hastings, the latter being sunk immediately. Her crew, consisting of three men, all belonging to Hastings, were drowned.

An accident occurred yesterday morning to the Cochituate Viaduct, which conveys water into Boston, which will take several days to repair, besides making a scarcity of water for the Bostonians. A portion of the works, one hundred and sixty feet in length, was carried away, including fifty feet of masonry and a granite gate-house. The accident occurred at Newton Lower Falls, and caused quite a flood in the vicinity.

Tse inquest in the Fourteenth-street boarding-house poisoning case was continued yesterday before Coroner Schirmer. No testimony of importance was elicited, the witnesses who appeared being for the most part recalled. The inquest was postponed to allow Prof. Doremus time for further investigation into the character of the poison employed.

Yesterday was appointed for the sentence of Stephens, convicted of poisoning his wife. He was not sentenced, however, his counsel interposing reasons which Judge Roosevelt considered sufficient to justify a brief delay. On Thursday, at noon, it is now understood, sentence will be pronounced.

The jury in the case of Bernard Kerrigan found a verdict exculpating officers Golden and Wilsey from all agency in causing his death. They say that his death was caused by violence at the hands of parties unknown.

The Cotton Market, yesterday, was quite active, sales having been made of 8,000 bales, chiefly here, at a shade higher rates. The principal kinds of Breadstuffs were depressed, and prices of Flour and Wheat steadily favored buyers. The movements in Provisions were fair. Pork was cheaper. Groceries were in demand. Common Resin attracted more attention. Oils, Metals and Tobacco were quiet. The Freight engagements were moderate.

Near the Close of the Session.

The present session of the Legislature commenced on the 4th of January, and, accordingly, but fifteen days of the Constitutional hundred are left. Most of that period will be busily occupied in passing bills selected by the Grinding Committee, into whose hands a very important power is committed. But there is one kind of business which that Committee does not meddle with directly. We refer to the preparation of political issue for the Fall campaign. Each party always considers such delicate matters in Committee of the Whole, or, if there are Grinding Committees, they perform their work quietly, leaving not only their operations but their existence as much as practicable a secret.

Both parties at Albany have this Winter played their parts so adroitly as to present few salient or exposed points. The Republicans, as being the majority, were, of course obliged to shoulder the chief burden of responsibility. On the Canal question they have acted so discreetly, and on the whole so judiciously, as nearly to take that contested matter out of the field of partisan controversy. There is, in fact, no dispute between the two parties, except in regard to details. Both favor the completion of the Enlargement, and the Democrats find it nearly impossible to fasten upon any feature in the policy of their opponents worth carrying into the canvass.

Next after the Canals comes the Registry. Regarded in a purely party light, this measure is the chief embarrassment of the Republicans. They are fully aware that, once passed, the Democrats would pounce upon it with all manner of misrepresentation and abuse. It would, in fact, furnish their battle cry in November. Without it they would be puzzled to find anything to attack. Naturally, therefore, the Republican leaders desire to avoid the enactment of a Registry. But the thing has two sides. The question arises whether, for the sake of embarrassing the enemy, they can afford to disappoint and alienate their friends. The Syracuse pledge stares them in the face; and what is more, the undeniable fact that nine-tenths of their party desire a Registry, and insist on its enactment.

How this difficulty will be conquered, it is impossible to predict, further than that no Registry, worthy of the name, will be suffered to pass. But whether the end is to be accomplished by the passage of some milk-and-water affair, or by allowing the several bills under consideration to fall to the ground between the two Houses, remains to be settled by the lapse of time. A fortnight will tell the whole story to its last syllable.

The Last British Outrage.

A number of enthusiastic American citizens, now residing in the new British colony of Victoria, have just published an address "To the World," in which they set forth, with sophomoric magnificence of style, certain frightful injuries which they have endured at the hands of Gov. Douglass, of that colony. They begin by publishing a correspondence between themselves and the said Governor, per his Secretary, the drift of which goes to show that the American residents of Victoria asked permission to "fire a salute at meridian," on the 22d of February, as a means of "celebrating the birthday of General George Washington;" and that Governor Douglass in his reply, while professing the most sincere desire to show especial regard to the memory of Washington, respectfully declined to allow any public demonstrations of any marked character, such as the firing of salutes, or public processions through the streets, when "undertaken by private individuals." After issuing this correspondence in full, our angry fellow-citizens in a foreign land state their conviction that this "simple publication will be sufficient to proclaim to all mankind, more forcibly than can be done in any other manner, the indignity which has been put upon us" (meaning not the said fellow-citizens at Victoria but the whole of us free and independent Americans) "as a people."

They then go on to ventilate their rhetoric in an elaborate production which is certainly neither "simple" nor "forcible," but which begins with the profound first principle that "there is no sentiment of humanity so ennobling in its effects as that of reverence for the memory of the dead," and culminates in the heart-rending assertion that Gov. Douglass has made these unhappy signers "feel that they are aliens whose presence is unwished for." The "world" to which this appeal is uttered, being just now tolerably busy with matters of exciting importance in divers and sundry regions, may possibly forget to pay such attention to this cry of the oppressed as the greatness of the emergency may seem to them to demand. We think it therefore but right to bestow upon our afflicted countrymen a moment's consideration.

We are perfectly prepared to believe, at the outset, that Governor Douglass is a black-hearted aristocrat, and a fiendish enemy to republican institutions. This is the more probable, that a few months only have elapsed since Governor Douglass and the Sovereign whom he represents, and the nation of which he is a citizen, were most wantonly insulted by one Nugent, who had been dispatched to Victoria, as the agent of the American Government, and who availed himself of his position to disgrace the American commission he bore by a Parthian impertinence leveled in flying at the "Saxon" lords of the Island of Vancouver. Governor Douglass, being after all only a poor little provincial Governor, may have been exasperated by this behavior on the part of Nugent, and so may have gladly caught at the opportunity of spiking the guns of Nugent's fellow-citizens. Precisely what particular insult he has, however, offered to the "memory of Washington," of whom he speaks with all respect as "an illustrious statesman and patriot," by refusing Mr. Pickett, Mr. Wright, Mr. Sutho, and sundry other individuals a license to startle the echoes of Victoria with six-pounders, and poison its air with sulphur, we confess ourselves unable to perceive. Had Governor Douglass ever enjoyed the advantage of a residence in this happy capital, where we keep a sort of shabby wilderness called "the Park," expressly sacred to six-pounders and sulphur, he might have looked on the request in a very different light. Should a club of Englishmen ask permission to burn powder under the nose of that hideous brown-stone Joss or idol which disfigures and misrepresents Washington, in front of our City Hall, to the "memory" of Captain Brooke, of the Shannon frigate, or upon the anniversaries of the battles of White Plains and Bladensburgh, we should of course at once concede to them that privilege. Governor Douglass as a foreigner has been bred in other habits, and he should have the benefit of this consideration. An evening paper of this City, speaking up for the "world," denounces the unlucky Governor for refusing what Papal Rome, France, Austria and Spain have not declined to concede. But we see no proof that he did anything of the sort. To the best of our knowledge and belief no American gentleman has ever been permitted to fire off so much as a single revolver on the 22d of February in the streets of Rome or Vienna, Paris or Madrid. Free license of eating and drinking has indeed been always granted to the patriotic sons of Columbia on all public occasions in those capitals, and this Governor Douglas does not appear to have refused. Nor would he, doubtless, have interfered with any oratorical effusion, in which the signers of this remarkable letter "to the World" might have have felt disposed to indulge. He objected simply and purely to thunder and fire, to the banging of drums, the shrill squeaks of the "ear-piercing fife," and that general self-glorification, through noise, uniforms and flags, into which a certain class of our fellow-countrymen have so strong a tendency to rush on the slightest provocation. As a matter of taste we cannot find it in our hearts to blame him. The men who can open a perfect Austerlitz of adjectives with the meek assertion that they will "simply say" one word, would, doubtless, have made day hideous in Victoria had a six-pounder been intrusted to their keeping. As a matter of expediency and political sagacity, it might, perhaps, have been wise for Governor Douglass to fill his ears with cotton, and bid the "American residents" "blaze away at "meridian," commonly called "noon," on the 22d of February. He would have thus spared himself a tempest in the teapot over which he presides; the "world" a long letter full of uproarious verbiage, and the sensible inhabitants of the United States the pain of seeing how extremely silly a knot of Americans can make themselves when they are once infected with the idea that some small foreign official means to "put an indignity" upon the great Republic to which they belong.

Next to a Miracle.—Mr. Buchanan's Administration has done what everybody, until within the last few months, deemed absolutely impossible. It has incited a large number of its friends to look to General Pierce as a Presidential candidate. Up to Mr. Buchanan's time Gen. P.'s Administration was considered the weakest and the worst the country had ever known. Since then it has been so far surpassed that people actually look back upon it with envious admiration.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Mexican Affairs—Secret Treaty Between Miramon and Sardinia—Three Mexican States to be Sold—The Cass-Yrisarri Treaty, &c.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Washington, Tuesday, March 29.

Private letters from a highly responsible source have been received here from Mexico, giving the details of a secret treaty between Miramon and the Government of Sardinia, by which the former grants to Sardinia the States of Tabasco, Tehuantepec and Chiapa, for five millions of dollars—France advancing one million, and guaranteeing the payment of the balance. Sardinia is to send out emigrants, as formerly arranged for by Zuloaga, under a colony grant to Sardinia. This information is regarded as perfectly reliable by a gentleman here well versed in Mexican affairs, though it has not been communicated to our Government, owing to the strange incredulity of the Administration respecting all facts going to prove that Europe is about enforcing the "Monroe doctrine" against us.

I have reason to believe that General Jerez no longer anticipates a ratification of the Cass-Yrissari Treaty by Nicaragua.

The Hon. Louis T. Drummond, M. P. P., of Canada, is at the National.

The citizens of Georgetown are taking steps to become annexed to Washington.

Commodore Stewart's letter fully sustains my dispatch respecting Jefferson's gun-boat navy.

I am authorized to say that the Mexican Legation is not considered closed by our Government, but stands precisely upon the same footing with the Brazilian and other Legations, which are in the hands of Chargés d'Affaires ad interim. Q.

[from the reporter for the associated press.]

Washington, Tuesday, March 29.

The Superintendent of Public Printing has given the contract for 5,000 reams of Congressional printing paper to Wilcox & Co., of Philadelphia.

There are now 39 Coast Survey parties in the field and afloat, namely: On the Atlantic Coast, 19; on the Gulf Coast, 14; and on the Pacific Coast of the United States, 6.

The Washington Republican Association are making arrangements to celebrate Jefferson's birthday.

It is understood that the counsel of the New Almedan Mining Company have asked the President to interfere in a suit now pending in California, so as to procure for them certain papers from the Mexican archives, but Attorney-General Black has reported against the application, on the ground that the papers are probably not genuine, and that Mexican officials cannot be trusted to certify to them, owing to the perpetration of frauds already discovered. Our Government declining to ask for these documents Mexico will be left to tender them on its own responsibility for the benefit of the claimants.

Attorney-General Black purposes leaving Washington to-morrow for Pennsylvania. From thence he goes to New-York and Charleston, S. C. It was his original intention to go to Havana, and he had taken out his passports for so doing. He will be absent for several weeks, his physician having advised travel and temporary cessation from official business, as necessary to the restoration of his impaired health.

It is expected that the Postmaster-General will take definite action to-morrow on the Boston Post-office question.

New Orleans papers of the 24th inst. are received, by the arrival of the mail, as late as due, but they contain no news of importance.

FRIGHTFUL CALAMITY ON THE OHIO.

Collision Between the Steamers Nat Holmes and David Gibson—Shocking Loss of Life.

Cincinnati, Monday, March 28.

The steamer Nat Holmes, bound from Pittsburgh to St. Louis with 150 passengers, mostly emigrants to Pike's Peak, came in collision with the steamer David Gibson, bound from New-Orleans to Cincinnati, with a cargo of sugar and molasses, opposite Aurora, Indiana, last night. Both boats sank and the cabins floated off. Fifteen or twenty persons are supposed to have been lost on the Nat Holmes,—and indeed one account says that only one hundred of her passengers were saved. The David Gibson had but a few passengers, who are all supposed to have been saved but two or three of her crew, who are missing. The Gibson was owned here, and valued at $18,000, and insured for two-thirds that amount. The Holmes was owned in Pittsburgh, and valued at $10,000.

Cincinnati—P. M.—No lives were lost on the David Gibson.

The Nat. Holmes had 86 passengers, 42 of whom were lost.

The survivors lost nearly all their clothing, and $15,000 in money.

The total loss on both boats and their cargoes is about $300,000, and the insurance $175,000.

News from Kansas.

FAVORABLE ACCOUNTS FROM THE GOLD REGION—THE CONSTITUTIONAL ELECTION, &C.

Leavenworth, Monday, March 28.

Dates from Denver City are to the 14th ult. The accounts are favorable, the average yield of the gold with rockers being from four to ten dollars the day per man. Ditch companies were forming to carry the water from the Platte to Cherry Creek, a distance of twenty miles. The rush from here is beyond precedent. Upwards of a thousand persons have arrived since Friday, the suburbs are covered, with companies in the camp. Jones and Russell dispatched their first train on Saturday, and another leaves to-day.

The jury in the case of Doy, under trial at St. Josephs, have disagreed.

The people vote to-day for or against the formation of a State constitution.

Leavenworth, Tuesday, March 29.

At the election here yesterday there was but slight opposition to the Constitutional question, which was carried by a small majority.

A nolle prosqui was entered in the case of Charles Doy, and he has been released from custody and is now in this city.

Dr. Doy, the father, has been held to bail in $5,000 for trial at the next term of the Court.

The advices from the mines are to the 26th ult. The miners near Arrapahoe City were confident of making large wages, and the prospects were that the sluices would yield as high as fifty cents per pan. The weather was too cold, however, to admit of extensive operations.

From New-Orleans.

THE ARIZONA EMIGRATION SCHEME—SHIPPING OVER THE BAR—SHIP MONTICELLO ABANDONED.

New-Orleans, Monday, March 28.

Col. Lockridge has returned from Texas, where he has been engaged in organizing his Southern and Western Arizona emigrant expedition, which is to start about the middle of April.

Ten ships outward bound have crossed the bar since Saturday. There are still thirty detained there with nearly 100,000 bales of cotton.

New-Orleans, Tuesday, March 29.

The ship Monticello, of Richmond, Me., from New-Orleans to Liverpool with 2,800 bales of Cotton, was abandoned on Sunday seventy miles outside the bar on fire. The crew returned here.

The bar is improving, and the vessels detained there will all get over in a few days if the wind continues favorable.

NEW-YORK LEGISLATURE.

SENATE....Albany, Tuesday, March 29.

The bills chartering the South Pacific American Mail Steamship Company; authorizing the American Express Company to sell certain real estate; to incorporate the New-York Observatory Association, and to increase the rates of publication of legal notices, were ordered to a third reading.

The Special Committee on Mr. Wetmore's claim to a seat in the Eleventh District, presented three reports.

Mr. Laflin reported in favor of the constitutional right of the people of the Eleventh District to elect a representative to the State Senate when a vacancy existed, and that it did exist the expulsion of Mr. Mandeville by the Senate proves. He, therefore, submitted a resolution that Henry C. Wetmore take the oath of office and be admitted to a seat in the Senate.

Mr. Scott reported against the legal right of a constituency to elect when no notice as required by law was given. He met Mr. Laflin's argument in the case of Davis and Cowles, by setting forth the distinction between the cases. He submitted a resolution that Henry C. Wetmore is not entitled to a seat from the Eleventh District.

Mr. Lamont also reported concurring in the constitutional argument of Mr. Scott, but citing the precedent alluded to as probably justifying the admission of Mr. Wetmore. He submitted no resolution.

The three reports were ordered to be printed.

The bill relative to the public health of New-York, was taken up, after the election of the Regents to the University, and Mr. Brandreth spoke at length against it, and signified his intention to oppose it to the utmost.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Metropolitan Police bills came up as the special order, but, on motion of Mr. Spinola, were postponed till Tuesday, next week, at 11 A. M.

The Senate then adopted a resolution restricting debate on any question to ten minutes, except by consent.

The Assembly bills relating to the Central Park, New-York, were reported favorably.

The resolution denying the petition of certain parties for closing the Canal locks on Sunday was taken up.

Messrs. Mather and Prosser supported the resolution, and spoke against closing the locks as tending to obstruct navigation, while not securing a better observance of the Sabbath.

Messrs. Loveland, Ames and Diven spoke in favor of closing the locks.

After debate, Mr. Loveland's bill, providing for the closing of the locks, was substituted in place of the resolution denying the prayer of petitioners.

EVENING SESSION.

The Senate went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Ely in the Chair, on the bill submitting to the people the question of a loan of two and a half millions to pay the floating debt of the State.

On motion of Mr. Prosser, the concurrent resolutions, amending the Constitution so as to borrow three and a half millions, to be devoted to the completion of the enlargement of the Canals and to the payment of the floating debt, were also taken up.

Mr. Mather moved to substitute Mr. Diven's bill for the resolutions.

Mr. Prosser and Mr. Hubbell took the position that the two and a half millions proposed by Mr. Diven's bill would not pay the debt and complete the work. They were therefore opposed to the bill and in favor of the resolutions.

Mr. Diven said, according to the estimates of the State Engineer, he needs half a million to go on with the work of the present year. The Senate has passed a bill providing for a five-eighths of a mill tax, which would yield about eight hundred thousand dollars. The interest on the Canal debt was to be paid out of this sum, and the balance will go to carrying on the work of the present year; next year another five-eighths mill tax can be levied and it will complete the canals. Now let the Senate make a provision for the payment of the floating debt by the passage of the bill for the two and a half millions loan. Mr. Diven spoke at length against the continuance of the floating debt, and warned the friends of the Canals that these constant borrowings for the completion of the Canals had heretofore failed, and would lead in the future, as in the past, to corruption.

Mr. Truman spoke in favor of the resolutions, and advocated raising the sum of $4,000, so as to complete the Chenango Canal.

Mr. Noxon advocated the substitution of Mr. Diven's bill in place of the resolutions, and took substantially the same ground as taken by Mr. Diven.

Mr. Hubbell sustained Mr. Prossers resolutions, providing for the opening of the Constitution, believing that the people were in favor of securing at once by loan a sufficient amount to complete the canals.

After further debate by Mr. Mather and others, Mr. Mather's resolution to substitute Mr. Diven's bill for the concurrent resolutions prevailed by 11 to 9.

Mr. Ames then moved to increase the amount in the bill from two and a half to three millions. Lost.

The Committee then rose and reported the bill to the Senate, recommending its passage.

Mr. Mather moved the bill have now its final reading, but before the question was put, a motion to adjourn prevailed.

ASSEMBLY....Albany, Tuesday, March 29.

An attempt was made by Mr. Opdyke to take up the New-York City Railroad bills in Committee of the Whole, and for that purpose moved to suspend the special order, being the third reading of bills. Lost by 55 to 44—not a two-third majority.

The attempt to take up the bills in the Committee comes from those opposed to them.

BILLS PASSED.

To amend the law relative to the collection of demands against vessels.

The provide for ascertaining and collecting damages caused by the destruction of the buildings at Quarantine, by a vote of 80 to 25.

To provide for the appointment of Inspectors of Election and District Canvassers by the New York Supervisors, by 83 to 18.

No other business of interest transpired until 12 o'clock, when the House proceeded with the Senate to the nomination of two Regents of the University. Mr. Robert S. Hale, of Essex, was elected in place of Mr. Greig, deceased, the Democrats voting for Charles O'Conor. The Rev. George B. Cheever was elected in place of Mr. Wm. C. Bryant, resigned, the Democrats voting for John Willard, of Saratoga.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Mr. Godard, from the Railroad Committee, reported against the bill requiring the publication of the rates of railroad freight, regulating way-freight tolls, and forbidding a change in the rates.

In the report, the Committee declare their belief that it would be difficult, if not impossible, to carry into operation such enactments in so complicated a business as railroad traffic. They refer to the competition going on for carrying trade between lines in and out of this State, and the necessity of inducing traffic to come this way to the seaboard, instead of driving it off into other chan els. The Committee are of opinion that the Railroads have contributed largely to the convenience of the people of the State, and that the present is a very unfavorable time to make so bold an invasion on the settled principles of the carrying trade as the bill proposes.

Mr. H. A. Lyon moved to disagree with the report of the Committee, and that the bill be referred to a Select Committee of five.

Messrs. Law, Miller, Lyon, Rauney and the Speaker sustained the motion, and Mr. Godard and Mr. S. Spencer spoke against it and in favor of the rejection of the bill.

The motion was then adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Messrs. Batcheller, Bingham, Bliss, Brockway, Bump, Carpenter, Chamberlain, Coburn, Colt Costello, Filkins, Fish, Fuller, H. K. Graves, Green, Hall, Holt, Hubbell, Hutchinson, Johnson, King, Ladew, Lamont, Law, Littlejohn, Lockhard, H. A. Lyon, L. R. Lyon, Mackin, Macomber, Miller, Morris, Moulton, Northup, S. E. Palmer, Petton, Perry, Plato, Pond, Powell, Ranney, Reilly Rogers, Sholefield, Z. E. Slocum, Snell, Steward, St. John, Sweeny, Thompson, Tuthill, Van Horn, Weaver, Woodbury, Young—57.

Nays—Messrs. Aylworth, N. A. Childs, Cobb, Conkling, Earll, Fitzgerald, Godard, Gover, Grant, McLead, Masterson, Messeroie, Opdyke, Parton, Payne, Pierce, Rider, Shepard, Smith, C. S. Spencer, Suydam, D. Thomas, Warner, Wyant, Woodruff—25.

A large number of bills were reported complete and ordered to a third reading, among them the following:

To incorporate the New-York Woman's Library.

To repeal the act to aid in the erection of the monument in Independence-square, Philadelphia, to the memory of the Signers of the Declararion of Independence.

To amend the Brooklyn Local Assessment Act.

To incorporate the East Brooklyn Savings Bank.

To discharge the mortgages on the Auburn and Syracuse Railroad.

To investigate the alleged frauds on the Canals.

Mr. Hall, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported favorably the bill to require County Treasurers to pay into the State Treasury all Chancery Funds in their hands.

BILLS PASSED.

To amend the Brooklyn Court Act.

To authorize the sale of Groton Library.

To provide for the payment of certain claims against the city of Brooklyn.

In relation to the proceedings upon the mandamus to divide the Sixth Judicial District, New-York.

To amend the act providing for assessments for opening and widening streets in New-York.

In relation to fees on the publication of legal notices.

A number of bills of private interest were also passed.

Mr. Tomlinson rose to a question of privilege. A member had promised to present the minority report for him against the bill to divide the Sixth Judicial District of New-York, during his temporary absence through sickness, but had failed to do so; he regarded the bill as an imposition upon the people of New-York, and desired to put himself on the record as against it. Adjourned.

A letter to the Republican from Fort Staunton, New-Mexico, dated the 1st inst., says that the proposed protectorate over Sonora and Chihuahua excites considerable attention here, and that it is evident from the quiet movement and concentration of troops, that orders looking to the occupation of the States named are expected.

Bursting of the Cochituate Viaduct.

Boston, Tuesday, March 29.

The Cochituate Viaduct at Newton, Lower Falls, burst at an early hour this morning, carrying away portions of the embankment, and causing quite a flood in the vicinity. Several factories at the Upper Falls, by the accumulation of back water, were threatened with an overflow. The water in the Viaduct was finally cut off at Framingham. The accident is very serious, and will require some time to repair.

The breakage of the aqueduct extends about 160 feet, including 50 feet of masonry. The granite gate-house on the west side of the river was carried away, and the mass of water that was swept into the stream caused a new channel to be formed.

Fears are entertained of a scarcity of water, and economy in its use is urgently requested by the Board of Water Commissioners.

It will take several days to repair the break.

Wreck of the British Steamer Jaseur.

FURTHER AND AUTHENTIC PARTICULARS OF THE CALAMITY.

The Correo, of Trinidad de Cuba, for March 19, contains confirmation of the report that the British gunboat Jaseur had foundered near the coast of Cuba, and that a large portion of its crew, it was feared, had been lost. We translate:

"On the 14th instant Don Antonio Goicochea, the Marine Ayudante of Santa Cruz, sent a dispatch to the office of her Britannic Majesty's Consul, in this city, notifying him of the arrival at that port of the captain, four officers, and fifteen seamen of the English war steamer Jaseur, bound from Nicaragua to Jamaica, and shipwrecked on the night of February 26, having struck on the reef of Riocondar, leaving the crew no time to secure provisions. In consequence, these unfortunate men have been ten days without food of any sort, and during the first eight days without water. But fortunately they were at last rescued, having fallen in with two fishing vessels, the Orsigan, and Almestica, which conducted them famished and fainting to Santa Cruz, where the Ayudante of the Marine furnished them all the succor necessary in their unhappy condition.

The moment the British Consul, in this city, received this dispatch he transmitted a telegraph to his Excellency, the Captain-General, apprising him of the facts; whereupon his Excellency immediately ordered the steamer Don Juan de Austria to leave this port, take on board the shipwrecked party at Santa Cruz and convey them to Jamaica. He also ordered that the steamer Lezo should proceed without loss of time to search the Southern coast for the two boats, which contain thirty others escaped from the foundered vessel, and whose fate is involved in mystery."

THE REVOLUTION IN CORO—MISHAP TO A REBEL LEADER.

The Boletin Oficial of Caracas, of March 10, states that the enemies of the existing order of things, who had levied civil war in Coro, and who hoped to extend it to other points, were reduced to the last extremity.

General Sotillo, who some time since fled the country and took refuge in the island of Trinidad, had sailed thence to El Cedro, and had succeeded in landing some arms there, when he found himself deprived of the remainder of his armament, still upon the vessel that brought him, which, together with several Venezuelans, had been captured by a brig-of-war sent by the Government of Trinidad in pursuit. The leader of the revolt is Serapio Rencon. The operations against the insurgents are so energetic that the suppression of the insurrection was expected to be an affair of a few days.

Fatal Stabbing Affray in Worth-street—Jealousy the Cause.—A man named John Van Voort, a boiler-maker by trade, was fatally stabbed about 9½ o'clock on Monday evening, in Worth-street, by a sailor named William Eddy Moore. It appears that Moore, some time ago, married a woman named Lizzie Hughes, and soon after became jealous of attentions paid to his wife by Van Voort. Monday evening, as Moore and his wife were walking down Worth-street, near West Broadway, they met Van Voort, when Moore attacked him and a scuffle ensued, during which Moore drew a large dirk-knife and stabbed Van Voort in the abdomen, inflicting a frightful wound, from which the intestines protruded. After committing the deed Moore walked leisurely away, but his wife remained behind, and was soon after arrested. A man named Curly, who witnessed the affair, procured assistance, and the wounded man was conveyed to the City Hospital, where he still lingers, but Dr. Shrady says he cannot survive. Moore's wife refused to give any information as to the probable whereabouts of her husband, and the Police allowed her to go, in hopes she would follow him and thus discover his place of concealment. She, however, did not go to her residence, but to a drinking saloon, and from there to the City Hospital, where she made inquiries about the condition of "Johnny," meaning Van Voort. The Police kept upon her track, and finally arrested her a second time, and threatened to commit her, unless she went home. Upon this she proceeded to her residence, in the rear of No. 74 Mulberry-street, where her husband was found concealed, and both were taken into custody. Coroner O'Keefe yesterday visited the Hospital and took the ante-mortem statement of Van Voort. He stated that he recognized the prisoner as the man who stabbed him, but whether the stabbing occurred in the street or in the house No. 44 Worth-street, he could not say, he being intoxicated at the time. He said that he had lived with the prisoner's wife three years, and that she had been a prostitute ten years. He was on good terms with Moore, and had drank with him only an hour previous to the affray. He gave Moore no provocation for the deed, and did not know why he should have done it, unless it was from jealousy. Van Voort is a single man, 27 years of age, a native of New-Jersey, and resided at No. 307 West Thirty-third-street.

Collision and Loss of Life on the Hudson.—About 8½ o'clock Monday evening, one of the Hudson River steamers (supposed to have been the North America) came into collision with the sloop Stephen Raymond, of Hastings, near that village. The crew, consisting of three persons, had not time to escape from the vessel before she went down, and were all drowned. Their names were Elijah Conklin, Captain; Peter Datzel, mate, and a young man about 18 years of age, named William Hagan. The crash was heard by persons at a quarter of a mile distant, and the steamer was observed to sheer towards Piermont and blow off steam. The vessel, from her appearance, must have been struck amidships. The yawl was swinging at her stern when seen yesterday morning. The binnacle was picked up some distance from the wreck. No one saw the accident from the shore, as the night was very dark, and the first notice of the melancholy disaster was the next morning when the mast of the vessel was seen projecting above the water. The persons who perished are all residents of Hastings, and the event has cast a gloom over the village. Capt. Conklin was about 35 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children. The mate, Mr. Datzel, is unmarried, and aged 20 years. Young Hagan is an only son. Mr. Le Furgy, the owner of the vessel, came to the City yesterday to make inquiry about the accident, but could learn nothing from the owners of the steamer. The sloop was valued at $2,000. She was loaded with lime, and there was no insurance on vessel or cargo.

TUESDAY, March, 29—P. M.

The day has been marked by renewed speculation in Cotton on the English accounts telegraphed from Halifax this morning, and by a large business in English bills. The sales of Cotton are 8,000 bales, of which about 5,500 bales, on the spot, at 12⅝@12⅞ cents for Middlings, and 2,500 bales at sea on the same basis. The receipts at the Southern ports, on this week's mail report, are 78,000 bales, as against 97,000 bales the same week last season. The total receipts of the present crop are 3,185,000, as against 2,342,000 bales same time last season. The demand for Exchange for the steamer to-morrow was enhanced this forenoon by orders per Empire City from Havana to remit to London for Cuba account. The rates for bank and banker's bills kept steady and closed 109⅝@109⅞ ℔ cent. The export demand for Bullion for this steamer amounts to about $300,000. The Empire City brought $265,000 in Gold and Silver from New-Orleans and Havana. The California treasure, by packet of March 5, is announced as in port this afternoon by steamer Granada. The market for Money to-day is without alteration. The supply is easy, both for temporary employment at 4@5 ℔ cent., and on discounts at from 5 to 7 ℔ cent., according to date of paper and the preferences of the lender for particular names. We hear of choice six months' bills being done at 6 ℔ cent. The Sub-Treasury received $61,000 for Customs to-day, and paid $75,000 on Government drafts from California. A large amount of money was transferred to the credit of the Disbursing officers of the Government. The net balance paid out of the office to day is $92,000, reducing the balance on hand, for all accounts, to $7,890,358.

On the Stock Exchange there was a decline, made almost general on the Share list, of one ℔ cent. as compared with the closing rates of Monday afternoon. The weak point in the market yesterday, almost the only one remarked upon in our last report, was Michigan Guaranteed Stock, which fell 2 ℔ cent. on the annual report of the Company. To-day there was an additional decline of 2½ ℔ cent., carrying the price down to 40 ℔ cent. as against 44½@¾ on Saturday last. To this was added a rumor that a deduction of $1 50 had been ordered on one of the through passenger trains from Buffalo to New-York on both the Central and Erie Roads, that is, $6 50 via the Central, including the Hudson River fare by rail or boat, and the same on the Erie, including the fare on the Patchin connection between the town of Corning and Buffalo. Although this new arrangement, if true, (and we suppose it to be so,) does not affect one-tenth the gross business of either line, it was instantly construed on the Street into a general and ruinous fight for business and Central shares, which had stood some days at 79@78¾, fell to 78@77¾, closing 77¾@78 ℔ cent. This decline, and the break down in Michigan Guaranteed, carried nearly the whole Share market to lower prices in the afternoon. Erie to 10¼@10½; Hudson, 32@32¼; Reading, 49⅞@49¾; Michigan Central, 50¾@51; Galena, 67½; Rock Island, 57; Toledo, 24¾@25; Illinois Central, (previously quite firm at 68@68¼.) 67½@68, and the Bonds, 91@91¼ ℔ cent. After the printed list, there was a fair demand for most of the active Shares at the decline. In Panama there was no fall whatever. In Pacific Mail 1 ℔ cent., and in Harlem Preferred ½ ℔ cent. Delaware and Hudson sold at 100⅛@100¼. The annual meeting of the Company was held to-day, when the following report for the year ending 1st March, 1859, and of the general balance sheet was submitted.

The following gentlemen were reëlected Directors for the ensuing year. Messrs. John Wurts, Silas Holmes, Wm. S. Herriman, Charles N. Talbot, Lora Nash, Edward J. Woolsey, Geo. T. Olyphant, Robert Ray, Samuel B. Schieffelin, Abiel A. Low, Robert L. Kennedy, John Schenck, James M. Halsted.

On the Bond list there was a fair demand for the New Federal Stock of 1874 at 104½ ℔ cent., and for the fives of 1865, at 102½@102½ ℔ cent. Tennessees advanced to 91⅝ ℔ cent., and Virginias to 98 ℔ cent. Missouris firm at 86½@⅝. The business in Railway Bonds was inconsiderable. LaCrosse Land Grants at 18 ℔ cent.

The National Bank has declared a half-yearly dividend of 3 ℔ cent.

There is no important market news by the California packet. The circular of W. T. COLEMAN & Co. from San Francisco, remarks on the Gold and Money accounts:

"During February, the receipts of Gold Dust from the interior continued light, but within the last few days an improvement is to be noted. The amount has not been greatly augmented as yet, but the change is indicative of the revival of business that will ensue in due course upon the establishment of fine weather. The most favorable expectations continue to be entertained of the success of the present year's mining, and it can be safely assumed that the yield of gold will exceed that of any period within the history of the State. The amount of export of treasure for the year 1859 will be influenced by causes independent of the production of the mines, but no doubt our people will be liberal buyers of goods that will be obtainable at a comparatively cheap cost.

Gold Bars are in good supply for this mail. On the Street to-day, for outside bargains, something less than 870 par is accepted, but contracts for large amounts are filled at 870 par, deliverable to-morrow. State Bonds have been in request during the fortnight for home account, and are firm at our figures. The Board of Examiners advertise again for bids to cancel $12,823 10-100 new State 7 per Cents., the award made at 92½c.@93½c. on the 1st February having been complied with by the bidders. In other stocks, business has been limited, at previous rates. California Navigation Company's has declined, some of the large boats that have been in the combination for two years back being now advertised in opposition to the Company."

A private letter says:

"We are informed that the Committee who have the bill under consideration providing for the payment of the old evidences of State indebtedness, or giving new bonds, have not reported, and it is uncertain when they will, or what their disposition will be.

Scrip, in anticipation of its being cashed, has advanced some, and may be quoted at 65c. to 70c. On the whole, we think there is a prospect of an appropriation in cash to buy up the scrip and old bonds; but could not recommend any one to purchase such paper on a speculation."

From Messrs. DECOPPET & Co.'s European Circular, per steamer Asia, we extract the following:

"City and County Bonds—The principal transactions have been in Brooklyn 6's, Chicago Water Loan 6's, Cincinnati 6's, both Railroad and Municipal issues at well sustained prices, and in St. Louis City Municipal Bonds at a slight decline. A few Clark County and Fayette County (K. T.) 6's have changed hands at previous figures. Railroad Bonds—With the exception of the first mortgage Erie bonds, have again declined. Illinois Central Construction have risen 1. Michigan Central 8's, 1882, 1; and Hudson River third mortgage 1½ ℔ cent. There have been sales of Hannibal and St. Joseph bonds as high as 75, 1½ ℔ cent. advance; of Cleveland and Pittsburg first mortgage, at 70; flat and large sales of Ohio and Pennsylvania first mortgage, at 70, and accrued interest."

Catarrh! Catarrh! Catarrh!
CATARRH. WHAT IS IT? HOW CURED?
Thousands of persons suffer all sorts of annoyance from Catarrh. Most people know what its inconvenience and results are, yet but few know how it can be cured. It is simply a chronic irritation and after enlargement of follicles and consequent thickening of the mucous membrane, lining the nasal cavities, fronted sinuses and posterior nares and sometimes extending into the throat and lungs. From this results tightness and often vertigo of the head, obstructed nose or profuse flow of mucus, loss of smell, nasal voice, and often impaired hearing and taste. The old-school remedies have never been able to do anything for it. Nasal injections and inhalations are as painful and expensive as they are generally worthless, yet HUMPHREYS' CATARRH SPECIFIC, a simple SUGAR PILL taken two or three times per day, promptly relieves the milder cases, cures at once all colds in the head, and radically cures by persevering use the most obstinate cases, as is proved by the experience of hundreds.

DISCHARGES FROM THE EAR AND
PARTIAL DEAFNESS CURED
BY DR. HARTLEY,
AURIST,
No. 26 Clinton-place,
New-York.

Many people regard the curing of Deafness and Discharges from the Ear as impossible.

To all such DR. HARTLEY takes pleasure in submitting another list of recent cures in families of the highest respectability, culled from among a number too great for advertisement.

He has a work on the Ear now about going to press, in which he will be able to refer to thousands of witnesses to his success, and flatters himself that such positive proof of an existing fact will be a sufficient guarantee to the public, and an unanswerable argument for the skeptical.

HYATT'S PATENT LIGHTS.
A CARD HAVING BEEN ISSUED TO THE PUBLIC

By parties who frankly confess that they do not pay me for my invention, I avail myself of this opportunity to advertise the names of those who do. The following persons, only, are licensed under my patents in this City:
George R. Jackson & Co.

DR. MAGNIN'S LUCINA CORDIAL OR ELIXIR OF LOVE.—This delightful and positive invigorant of the human system is fast superseding all other remedies; in fact, when its virtues become fully known, it will be the only remedy in use. Its action on the nervous system and reproductive organs is most extraordinary, allaying all over-excitement, and infusing into the nervous organization that degree of tension which is requisite to give the human system the enjoyment of its full powers, both mentally and physically. As an appetizer it is equally remarkable; assimilated with the gastric juices of the stomach, it assists them in readily dissolving all nutritious substances, and converting them into pure and wholesome blood; thus the digestion is improved, and the whole framework of man [illegible] on in a more vigorous and harmonious manner. [illegible] Price $3 per bottle, or two bottles for $5. Principal [illegible] No. 203 Fulton-st., New-York. DR. MAGNIN.

Stricture and nervous debility treated on an entirely new plan. N. B.—Dr. C. is a member of the New-York University Medical College and College of Surgeons, London. DR. RALPH, AUTHOR OF THE PRACTICAL Private Treatise on venereal, gleet, strictures, weakness, &c., &c. Office No 52 Bleecker-st., two blocks east of Broadway. Hours 10½ to 2, and 6 till 9 o'clock.

DR. HUNTER—NO. 3 DIVISION-ST., PERFORMS THE GREATEST CURES EVER MADE. THE ONLY SECURITY AGAINST HUMBUGS AND THE EFFECTS OF DISEASES IS TO APPLY TO HIS OLD DISPENSARY, NO. 3 DIVISION-ST., NEW-YORK. ESTABLISHED IN 1834.
Dr. HUNTER, No. 3 Division-st., offers to the public the only reliable remedy known in the wide world for the permanent cure and removal of every particle of the rank and poisonous virus of venereal disease, which is the genuine HUNTER'S RED DROP, made from the original recipe, in the possession of Dr. HUNTER and not known by any other person living except Dr. HUNTER, at No. 3 Division-st., one door from the Bowery, all the assertions of the many poisonous quacks to the contrary notwithstanding. Dr. H. has prepared every vial of this celebrated medicine with his own hands that has ever been offered for sale for the last thirty years, and has never intrusted any living person with the secret; consequently, everything offered for sale at any other place is a libel, a base and wicked counterfeit, got up by some unprincipled wretch that, for the sake of a dollar, would trifle with the lives of his fellow-men.

March 18, 1859, the following Preamble and Resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The Agreement of Dec. 15, 1858, has been subscribed by only a portion of the parties whose signatures thereto are essential, in order to carry into effect the primary and main purposes contemplated thereby; and

Resolved, By the Trustees, pursuant to the authority given by the Tenth Article of said Agreement, that from and after the FIRST DAY OF MAY NEXT, the right of any and all parties to subscribe to said Agreement of Dec. 15, 1858, or any of its counterparts, shall cease and terminate, except upon and with the unanimous consent of said Trustees, as provided in the said Tenth Article thereof.

Resolved further, That the Trustees will, on or after the first day of May next, determine whether or not said Agreement of Dec. 15, 1858, has then been subscribed by the parties essential to give effect to, and to consummate its primary and main purposes as therein declared.

Resolved further, That the Trustees publish a notice of the above Preamble and Resolutions, in accordance with the Seventeenth Article of said Agreement.

Resolved further, That the Trustees will, unitedly and earnestly, make all fair and honorable efforts to procure, before the FIRST DAY OF MAY NEXT, the signatures of parties necessary to consummate and carry into effect the primary and main purposes of said Agreement, believing, as they do, that the consummation of said purposes, as therein declared, is essential to secure and protect the interests of all the Creditors and Stockholders of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad Company, Eastern Division, and to prevent a foreclosure of the mortgages on the corporate property and franchises of that Company.

NEWS BY THE ISTHMUS MAILS.

up in her to San Juan del Norte, and it is currently reported that other parties are on their way out, accompanied by some French troops for their protection during operations.

Assistant-Surgeon MARCELLUS P. CHRISTIAN has been transferred from the Brooklyn to the Flag-ship Roanoke.

First Assistant-Engineer THOMAS A. SHOCK, of the Roanoke, has been condemned by a Medical Survey, and will return to the United States in the Illinois. He is represented as a very promising young officer, and accomplished in his profession. His constant employment in the East Indies and Home Squadrons, without scarcely any cessation, has injured his health. Steaming is hard work; and our Naval Engineer Corps should be doubled, so as to allow the officers of that grade some relaxation.

The Jamestown and St. Louis are at San Juan del Norte.

The Flag-ship Roanoke is still here. Her officers and crew are well. Yours, very truly.

EXPEDITION OF THE U. S. SHIP DECATUR AGAINST A RUMORED FILLIBUSTER MOVEMENT FROM CALIFORNIA—HER FRIENDLY RECEPTION AT LA UNION—CORDIAL FEELING OF THE NATIVE GOVERNMENT—AID TO AMERICAN VESSELS—COMPLIMENTARY CORRESPONDENCE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

LA UNION, San Salvador, Saturday, Feb. 19, 1859.

In the latter part of January a rumor was circulated at Realejo that a party of fillibusters from California intended to make a new invasion of Nicaragua. As reported, the plan of operations to be pursued was to disembark at the Gulf of Fonseca, and there unite with the party of ANDERSON, from the Atlantic side, and thence proceed by the Estero Real—one of the arms of the Gulf of Fonseca—up into the country towards Leon. In order to anticipate any such invasion, and to carry out the intentions of our Government to suppress fillibusterism, flag-officer J. C. LONG, commanding the United States Pacific Squadron, dispatched the sloop-of-war Decatur, commanded by Captain H. K. THATCHER, with orders that the vessel be anchored at such position in the Gulf of Fonseca as would enable her to make strict surveillance over it.

On the 27th ult. the Decatur arrived here and anchored outside of Point Chicarene. At the same time Captain THATCHER dispatched J. E. DEHAVEN, Second Lieutenant, with a party of twenty men in a launch, all well equipped with small arms, besides carrying a Dahlgren field-piece, with instructions that the boat be so anchored as would enable her effectually to guard the entrance of the Estero Real. Lieutenant DEHAVEN proceeded thither, and anchored the launch near the foot of the volcano of Coseguina, where he remained near three weeks. As no invading party made its appearance, there was consequently no occasion for action on his part. During his stay at this place Lieutenant DEHAVEN was treated with the highest consideration by the native population residing in the vicinity; they daily drove down cattle to the beach to furnish him and his party with milk. At the foot of the volcano an immense number of cattle is pastured. Beside, the locality is quite a paradise for deer and wild turkeys.

Whilst anchored off Point Chicarene, the Decatur watered ship from a mountain stream which issues from the side of the volcano of Conchagua, situated near there. Vessels can there supply themselves with excellent water. A peculiarity in this water is that when first collected it has a temperature of near blood heat, owing to numerous small thermal springs which mingle their waters with the mountain stream.

Whilst the Decatur was anchored at this place, which is some seven miles from La Union, reports quite prejudicial to the military commandante, DON J. CACERES, were circulated to the effect that he had forbidden any of the boatmen of La Union to communicate with the vessel under penalty of from fifty to five hundred lashes. This report was currently circulated and credited in Realejo and Chinandega, in Nicaragua; and further, that in consequence of such an order, that the crew of the Decatur were actually suffering for the want of fresh provisions. On the part of the Nicaraguans, a high feeling of indignation was kindled by this rumor, as they viewed the mission of the Decatur in a highly favorable light, and one which concerned the public weal of San Salvador no less than that of Nicaragua. The whole affair was a mere fabrication, gotten up to injure the commandante, as no order of the kind ever emanated from him, but on the contrary, the communications between him and the sloop were of the friendliest character.

On the 12th inst., the time for which the Decatur was detailed to exercise surveillance over the Gulf having expired, she sailed up into port and anchored off the town. Whilst the Decatur was here she was visited by Commandant CACERES, his family, and several of the officials of the place. She being the first American man-of-war that has ever visited La Union, such a visit was an object of great curiosity and interest to the party. Though they had frequently visited French and English men-of-war which have touched here, yet they were unanimous in placing the sloop far in advance of any of them in respect to order and neatness. Captain THATCHER entertained the company with an appropriate collation, and treated them in such a manner as completely won the Commandante and gained for the stars and stripes a welcome here which cannot soon be forgotten. On the occasion of another company's visiting the vessel, Captain THATCHER gave orders to beat to general quarters, when, in a moment, the ship was cleared for action, and the various evolutions with the guns as would be necessary during an engagement, were exhibited, and with such celerity and expedition as afforded the spectators an admirable display of what Yankee arms are and could effect in the hands of well disciplined Americans. Besides, it must to some extent have disabused them of the erroneous notion that they were prepared to judge of what Yankee warfare is from their late experience in the war against the fillibusters.

Señor CACERES, the Commandante, in order duly to reciprocate the civilities shown on board the Decatur, prepared a sumptuous breakfast, gotten up on a luxurious scale á la Española, to which Capt. THATCHER and all his officers, together with the Prussian Consul to San Salvador and some of the officials of La Union were invited. Among the guests was a son of Gen. MORAZAN, who, it will be remembered, figured in the Central American struggle for independence, and is honored as the Washington of Central America. The breakfast was given in a large hall in the Commandante's residence. In one end of the room were spread the Stars and Stripes of the United States, united with the blue, white and blue flag of San Salvador. The Commandante expressed the wish, that "as the two flags were thus intimately joined, so may the two Republics which they represent, remain in everlasting unity." Señor CACERES expressed himself in most enthusiastic terms of Mr. E. G. SQUIER, formerly American Minister to this country. He thinks that had the United States intrusted the present diplomatic mission to Central America to Mr. SQUIER, the difficulties would long since have been arranged. Besides the breakfast, the Commandante gave a ball for the benefit of the officers of the Decatur.

Señor CACERES, together with almost all the Government officers of San Salvador, belong to the old school of MORAZAN, and to the integrity of principle which they have imbibed from him, is principally to be attributed the superiority to which this State has attained above her sister Republics.

La Union has a population of 2,000 persons; it has grown much faster than most other Central American towns, has an extensive trade in indigo and hides, and bids fair at no distant period to become an important commercial town. It is properly the port of San Miguel, a large town situated 40 miles in the interior, at the foot of the volcano of San Miguel, one of the most prominent landmarks for the navigator on the whole coast of Central America. The State of San Salvador, besides, produces excellent coffee, large estates of which are being planted.

A few miles across the bay, quite visible from La Union, is the Pacific terminus of the proposed Inter oceanic Honduras Railway. Many persons here are sanguine in the belief that this road will be constructed. Their hopes will, in all probability, be disappointed, as the lowest estimates place the construction of the road at a coast of near forty millions of dollars, which is four times that expended in building the Panama Railroad.

Col. PAGE, formerly of the U. S. Army, is at present stopping in La Union.

J. W. LIVINGSTON, Esq., formerly of New-York, but for several years past a resident in Central America, recently confirmed as United States Consul at this place, is universally conceded by all his countrymen here to be a very judicious appointment.

As the Decatur was on the eve of sailing from this port, Commandante CACERES addressed, in Spanish, the following communication to her commander:

LA UNION, Feb. 13, 1859.

To the Commander of the North American corvette Decatur—

SIR: Your great and philanthropic mission of visiting this Gulf has filled my country with confidence and gratitude, which I cannot express without all the feelings of an enthusiast; may it be the means of enlacing the flag of my country with that of the great Republic of the North, and become the happy omen of a strong and unalterable alliance.

I, in the name of my country and of my Government, have the honor to felicitate Mr. THATCHER for the signal honor which the Government of his nation has caused us by the present visit; and, also, I appreciate the honorable objects of his cruising in the Pacific.

I felicitate you particularly for the zeal with which you have filled the present mission, and am happy to be the organ of this frank and sincere expression in behalf of my Government and country. I also much regret that Mr. THATCHER should be obliged to leave us so soon after having thought proper to visit this port, and having established so just and well-merited sympathy here.

In transmitting to you these sentiments, I have the honor to assure you of the estimation and respect with which I subscribe myself your very attentive and obedient servant,

(Signed,) J. CACERES,
Commandante, &c., Department of La Union.

To the above, the following reply was received from Captain THATCHER and transmitted to the seat of Government:

U. S. SHIP DECATUR,
PORT OF LA UNION, Feb. 13, 1859.

To the Commandante and Civil Governor, Department of La Union:

SEÑOR: I have had the honor, this moment, of receiving your very complimentary and valued letter of this day, and most cordially do I reciprocate the kind and friendly sentiments therein contained. I take the present opportunity to thank you for your kind attentions during our stay in the waters of San Salvador, and it will afford me great pleasure to communicate to the Commander-in-Chief of the Pacific squadron, and through him to the United States Navy Department, the facilities afforded to ships-of-war at La Union, as well as the courteous attention which the officers of this ship, as well as myself, have received at the hands of the authorities. The prosperity of the Republic of San Salvador, as, also, that of the other Central American Governments, will ever afford great satisfaction to the Government of the United States. In conclusion, allow me to assure you of my sincere regard and consideration. I am, most respectfully, Your obedient servant,

(Signed,) H. K. THATCHER.

To Sr. J. CACERES.

AMERICAN AND OTHER WAR VESSELS AT REALIJO—SIR WM. GORE OUSELEY AND OUR TREATY.

PUNTA ICACO, Port of Realejo,
Tuesday, March 1, 1859.

This place, which has lately acquired distinction by the establishment of a Custom-house here, for the Port of Realejo, has been the scene of unusual activity during the last three months. Besides, the appearance here of the American men-of-war, the Decatur and Merrimac, has caused great numbers of persons, from all parts of the State, to come, in order to see these ships, and to learn, if possible, what their intentions are. A large number of the poorer class have pitched summer-houses, constructed of cane and palm leaves, in the vicinity of the Custom-house, and have opened small shops for trading with the sailors who are allowed to come ashore on liberty. The most profitable branch of business is in the sale of arguardiente, or native rum, which is made from the cane.

During the last month, there have been four vessels of war in port, viz.: The Merrimac, Decatur, English steamer Vixen, and the Serieuse, a French vessel. The Serieuse has sailed for the coast to the northward.

The Vixen, commanded by Captain LAMBERT, promoted a few months since, from a lieutenancy on board the Ganges, to this post, is expected to sail shortly for Punta Arenas, Costa Rica, whither she will carry Sir WM. GORE OUSELEY. He is now in Leon. In the treaty which, in behalf of his Government, Sir WILLIAM will soon arrange with this Republic, the Nicaraguans are anxious to have a clause inserted in which Great Britain will assume the protection of this country, in future, against its enemies. Such a treaty, if entered into with the English Minister, has, as yet, not been publicly promulgated.

Sir WM. GORE OUSELEY stands in much higher repute with this Government than our Minister, General LAMAR. The reasons of the latter's unpopularity have already been detailed in the TIMES. These facts should certainly have directed the attention of our Government to the unbecoming course of its representative in this quarter.

President MARTINEZ has publicly said that he will never ratify the proposed treaty with the United States unless he is forced to do so. Mr. JEREZ, now at Washington, has, it is reported, instructed his Government here never to ratify the treaty, though, in the United States, he appears to offer assurances that the question will soon be arranged.

CALIFORNIA.

The Wet Season—Effect upon Mining—Tax on Foreign Miners—Celebration of Washington's Birthday—Miscellaneous News.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Saturday, March 5, 1859.

We have had another moist fortnight since the sailing of last steamer, and the "oldest inhabitant" says more rain has fallen this year than any preceding one since '49. At any rate, the rains have been more general, extending north and south, much to the satisfaction of the residents of Southern California, who seldom get a fair share of the rain, and it has been "dry times" with them for the past three years.

The miners are a great set of grumblers,—they complain of want of water, and when it comes they complain of too much; and the papers are full of doleful accounts of "flumes" washed away, piles of "pay dirt" swept off by the floods, and their anticipated "piles" of gold with it. One is almost tempted to ask why the deuce they didn't take their flumes in-doors, and pile their piles where they would not wash away. They dam the rivers when low, and dam them worse when they are "high." The miners, high and low, are hard to please. If it is water they want, they have it this year—and if there is any faith to be placed in "talk," the yield of gold will be large. The miners are a discontented set, and are always grumbling. The question of allowing the Chinese to work in the mines has again been brought up, and in several of the districts meetings have been held, and resolutions passed to exclude them, and per consequence, the poor creatures have been attacked in their camps, several killed and the remainder dreadfully beaten and driven forth, homeless, robbed of their claims, their shanties, and their property destroyed. For nine cases out of ten, their claims are such as have been abandoned or worked over by their persecutors, the poorest and least remunerative. If they can make a dollar a day by hard labor, they are satisfied and cheerful, clustering together in little settlements—minding their own business, and in most instances, neither by word or deed, giving the slightest grounds of offence; but there are always a set of lazy, worthless fellows, hanging around groceries and grog-shops, who do nothing but curse their hard luck and the Chinese. They cannot bear to see them prospering, while they themselves are wasting their time in quarreling with their "luck." So whenever they can get up an excitement against the Chinese, they are happy, and are always foremost to head a party to rob, beat and drive the poor Chinese from their claims.

In old times these "poor but honest miners" made a fair living by personating the collector of the foreign miner's tax, and going from camp to camp demanding payment, and enforcing their demands with a six-shooter; but of late, the proper collectors are too greedy, and give these gentry very little chance. In short, the Chinese are maltreated, robbed and murdered, ad libitum, and the perpetrators of those outrages are seldom arrested and never punished. The Legislature has passed laws forbidding the emigration of the Chinese—but when the next ship that brought them on being libeled, carried the case to the Supreme Court, the decision was "unconstitutional." On every side a war is waged against the poor "Johns," as they are termed here, and except for the revenue derived from the tax collected from them, they would be pitched neck and heels out of the country. The sole revenue of several of the mining counties is derived from this source. There are but two or three newspapers in the whole State that have independence enough to come out and give their honest sentiments on the subject. Whether the policy pursued accords with that now advocated, in the matter of obtaining a foothold in China, I leave to "public opinion."

We are denying the Chinese here just what we demanded of them there. The result of the treatment they receive at our hands will, as a matter of course, increase their prejudice against the "outside barbarians," for every outrage upon them here is spread far and wide over the Chinese Empire. They return to their own country and relate their experience, and the result will be to retard, if not entirely prevent, the possibility of China's ever being a safe locale for Americans. We certainly could not blame them for retaliating whenever the opportunity occurs. I never heard of such short-sighted policy as this of driving out the Chinese when we are crying out against steamship monopolies that render it impossible to populate California as long as the prices of passage are beyond the means of the laboring classes. We want laborers in the mines, no matter where from or of what nation. The Chinese in California number, say 40,000; and, at the smallest estimate, they expend $5 a month each in traveling to and from the mines, &c. The consumption of rice alone amounts to $800,000, the trade being mostly in our hands. The business with them does not amount to less than $4,000,000 per annum. The taxes alone, collected, amount to $120,000 per month.

WASHINGTON'S birthday passed off about as usual—being about a half-and-half holiday. The citizen soldiers were out marching through the streets, preceded by a fine band, who occasionally dropped a note when one foot went a little deeper into a mud-hole than the other. They were hugely admired as they marched through the mire, surrounded by ambitious ragged urchins who fought and struggled with each other to get nearest to the big drum. A larger crowd of smaller boys, and worse boys, can be collected on an occasion here than in any city I ever lived in. We are sadly in want of a House of Correction, to which about two-thirds of the entire juvenile population ought to be sent semi-occasionally—do them good, as they seldom get corrected at home.

Mr. FITZPATRICK, member from Yuba County, made a very patriotic and eloquent speech in the Legislature, and in consideration of the day, proposed that the Legislature of California should make an appropriation of $1,000 to the Mount Vernon Association, which was heartily acquiesced in, and passed by a full majority. A very fair beginning for California, considering that the fever has not risen very high yet—just beginning,—but as we are bound not to be behind hand in anything, you may expect a larger contribution from this State than from any other. We raise the largest potatoes and pumpkins, and on the same principle imagine we must outdo everybody else in whatever we undertake, and in this instance the ladies having taken it up with that enthusiasm with which they enter into all sorts of things that don't cost them anything but time, of which they have too much, and where the men have to dance to their music, and come down heavily for the musician, you may consider the amount required made up. In such matters they do like to make us "hand over," there being a little spice of malice in it, just a trifle of revenge for fancied "short commons" and reluctant doling out of the "needful" when they are in the last stages of suffering and distress, for a new cloak or a set of "furs." Speaking of furs, the mania has reached us, and as westward the star of Fashion takes its way, I presume there won't be a knaka lady in the Sandwich Islands, that will not soon be enveloped in a five hundred-dollar cape. There are a few days in the year in California when furs may be worn with some degree of comfort, and a lady may not swelter under them; but nine days out of ten they are about as appropriate as white linen pants in New-York in January. But they are the fashion here; and as I sit at my window, which commands an extensive view of "Vanity Fair," i. e., Montgomery-street, I cannot but pity the fair creatures as they pass, flushed and panting, or dive into AUSTIN'S inviting dry goods "haven of rest" in the last stages of suffocation, under an immense fur cape, when the Spanish girls are out in muslin dresses, and half the promenaders are wearing their silk mantillas, (those who have no furs, of course.) But what's the use of having furs and not wear them?

Major "F. ALTON WHEELOCK," as he writes himself, who came here about a year ago, and opened with a grand flourish as a partner of WM. CORNELL JEWETT (who has gone East to make arrangements for building the Pacific Railroad) in the auction business—drove spanking bays and a carriage—was lauded and puffed by the papers he advertised in—has just been committed to the Station-house, on a charge of swindling J. B. BADGER out of $10. He borrowed $10 of BADGER, and gave his check on a Bank where he never had any money—rather a small potato affair on all sides. The Major is particularly unfortunate. It was only a day or two since he made a derogatory remark about a lady, passing, which being overheard by her father, present, he pitched into the Major and damaged his beauty. Somehow enterprise is not rewarded in these times, and in the present case, although the Major has shown a most praiseworthy desire to obtain that living that the world owes him, by making assessments on the inhabitants hereabouts, he has not succeeded as well as he might have reasonably hoped—and now the great gun, who comes out here with a grand report, and is fired off at us, in newspaper puffs and paragraphs, remains in the Station-house, for want of the necessary ammunition to get him—discharged.

Dr. REID writes from Rome, under date of Dec. 24, to Dr. C. A. HITCHCOCK, of this City, saying that POWERS was about completing the last of the three statues, which he calls "California," and according to contract, cannot make any more. The idea has been started to make up the required sum for its purchase, by subscriptions of $1. It is estimated that the price ($7,500) could be made up easily, the statue purchased, brought here and placed in some one of the public institutions of this great city. These consist of sundry Engine houses, the Orphan Asylum Station-house and Sailors' Home. Which one would be entitled to it is not for me to say.

The Nevada Democrat says that a man by the name of FOSTER, arrived at Nevada about a week ago, having made the trip alone, overland, from Fraser's River, a thousand miles or so, through a dense wilderness. He had a little disagreement with another man, and having killed him, and a reward of $1,500 being offered for his arrest by the British authorities, he sloped, giving as a reason that he could not get justice there! It is most likely that if he had remained, he would have got justice, and it was exactly what he didn't want—and to get away from justice was the prime cause of his long journey. Speaking of murders, a very fair business has been done in that line, and at the rate we are going on, we shall soon rival the older States at home. Some three or four that have occurred have furnished topic and material for chapters of horrors in the San Francisco Police Gazette, as well as filling whole columns of our daily papers. The summary of the two weeks news from the East by the last steamer, contains several I see quite equal to ours.

A case of assault and battery, in our Police Court, a few days since, brought up the question of the true meaning and definition of the term "gone in." It appears that the flog-ee (that same Major F. ALTON WHEELOCK, by the way,) said of a lady passing that she had "gone in;" whereupon, the lady's father overhearing it, went in and flogged Mr. WHEELOCK. He plead the remark in justification; which brought the matter up for discussion. WEBSTER, JOHNSON, and sundry other accepted authorities, were consulted in vain, and it was finally decided to be modern English; but no dictionary of California phrases being at hand, the case was adjourned until Judge COON could "read up."

The long-pending controversy as to who was the legally elected Judge of the Fourth District Court, HAGER or BURBANK, has at last been decided by the Supreme Court in favor of HAGER. In the wilderness of doubt and wrangling no business could be done. On a recent occasion they both opened Court. A case came up for trial; the lawyers were puzzled. Each claimed to be the legal Simon Pure Judge. Nothing could be done, so one adjourned the Court; the other said, Go on with the case. The Sheriff finally adjourned the Court on his own hook. It reminded me of two hens quarreling on a nest for the precedence as to who should lay an egg in that special receptacle. The best of it, or worst of it is, that Judge HAGER now refuses to act. He says that if he is Judge now he was Judge then, and being Judge should have opened the term, and won't commence it now in the middle, and says he must have an act passed by the Legislature to legalize his acts,—in other words, wants the Legislature to pass an act declaring the middle of the term to be the beginning. He might get over the difficulty by beginning where he is and working both ways—towards each end—first a case above, then one below, and so on alternately until he came out. However, I suppose he is the best judge of what he wants or don't want. Add to the "laws delays" a Judge that hangs fire, and we are badly off.

Brigadier-General T. N. CAZNEAU (Brigadier-General of what?) undertook to make war on Z. M. QUIMBY and opened the campaign by hitting Mr. QUIMBY over the head with a big stick, for which demonstration Judge BLAKE sentenced him to pay the modest sum of $1,200, or the option of one year's imprisonment—all it was worth. CAZNEAU paid down the money and went his way.

J. W. WALSH was fined $600 by the same Judge for a similar offence,—floggings "has riz" you perceive. What is the New-York tariff now? in former times it was $5, but of late I am told if a gentleman gets thrashed by a rowdy and prefers a complaint, he has a lucky escape if he 'don't get in the Tombs himself, while the shoulder-hitter is escorted from the Court-room by a few dozen sympathizing friends who march two and two in procession to the nearest drinking-shop and endeavor to drown his sense of the insult upon his dignity by frequent doses of consolation administered in the thick-bottomed glasses.

In the way of theatricals we have about the usual supply of traveling geniuses, shooting stars, in addition to the fixed ones. The two Misses GOUGHENHEIM, after their unsuccessful suit against the bark Glimpse for bad treatment, as they alleged, on the voyage from Australia, have turned their attention to business again, and have been playing at MAGUIRE'S Opera-house. Their suit with the Glimpse was an unfortunate move, the principal charges against the Captain being "no gentleman," a poor table and short allowance of sugar in their lemonade—rather frivolous on the whole, and in process of the examination some little characteristics and peculiarities of all parties were brought to light that had better been left in the dark. The usual gammon of "unprotected females," "persecuted women," &c., wouldn't do. No use, and they did not make anything out of it; on the contrary rather lost caste. I don't know where all the stars come from, but they drop down on us from the clouds, we never hear of them until they are suddenly announced with a flourish of trumpets They are all from either the Haymarket Theatre via Australia, which latter community were left in the most abject state of despair and distress. All the singers are prima donnas or celebrated tenors, and every identical individual from La Scala of Milan. The Scala of Milan must be an immense affair on a tremendous scale, and a Mile-an a half long to turn out so many wonderful artists.

JOHN DREW has been playing the Irish rôles and drew very well. PADDY COLLINS played a successful engagement, and I conclude has money in his pocket. He is not likely to keep it there I conclude, as I see him every day at a real estate office opposite, conning with eye-glass in hand, the tempting displays of eligible corner lots for sale low, "sure to double in value in six months." I think PADDY is seeking an investment. COLLINS has struck out à la ULLMAN, and has commenced a series of what he terms Matinée Concerts; the rain spoiled the first one, and the next he had in the evening, which went off very finely. It was a mixture of German, Irish, and Italian—a sort of musical hash, the pieces being all rather old, were consequently well seasoned.

The California Steam Navigation Company are in a "muss" again, opposition having started up against them. The Princess has been put on again by CONROY & O'CONNOR, iron merchants. The Queen City also comes out opposition. She ran against the draw-bridge at Sacramento, a few days since, and tore all the guards off on one side, smashed up things generally, killing the cook and damaging herself to the tune of $4,000. What between paying for the Pacific and Brother Jonathan, and sundry other heavy calls, the Company have not paid any dividends for two or three months past, and now that there is a prospect of strong opposition, stock has receded from 34 to 30, and will probably go lower. There is a desperate attempt to break up the "monopoly," as it is called, and frantic patriots, who have no finger in the pie, are in a desperate way to have the Legislature wipe out the Company altogether. The Legislature are not going to do anything of the sort; they are not going to be such geese as to kill the goose that lays the yellow eggs. A "chalked hat" and "sich like" little perquisites are not to be slighted.

A new schooner, just launched, has been named the Sneezer. I presume the Captain is "up to snuff."

We have intelligence of the safe arrival at San Diego of the steamer Uncle Sam, en route for the mouth of the Colorado, with the troops under command of Col. W. HOFFMAN. She landed 200 mules, in good order, at San Diego, received an additional company of the 6th on board, and proceeded on her voyage. All well and in good spirits.

The new man-of-war steamer built at Mare Island Navy-yard was successfully launched on the 31. A large delegation went up from here to witness the launch of the first vessel-of-war built in California. She is built entirely of material of the country and Oregon hard pine. Her engines were also built here, and, although not a Leviathan, she will do for a first attempt in a new country. In compliment to the honorable Secretary of the Navy, she is called the Toucey.

I shall take the earliest occasion to have a personal difficulty with your compositors, if they don't "set 'em up" more carefully; and a second chapter with the proof-readers. By substituting words that I didn't write, and leaving unfinished those that I did, they managed to knock out what little sense there was in some of the sentences of former communications. They were bad enough at best; for heaven's sake don't make them any worse! PODGERS.

P. S.—Opposition is the life of trade. The two lines are both doing their best; the fever runs high and prices low—$150 in the cabin, and $50 in the steerage. That's the way to do it. The low prices enable people to get rid of loafing friends cheap. It's much cheaper to pay their passage home than to sleep and eat them in this expensive country.

Miscellaneous News.

NULLIFICATION THREATENED—EFFECT OF THE FAILURE OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD BILL, &C.

The news of the failure of the Pacific Railroad bill in Congress had aroused the liveliest indignation in California. The San Francisco papers publish the rejected bill in full, and add severe comments upon the course of members who voted against it. The Alta California says:

"Hang another chaplet of mourning upon the altar of our hopes; ring down the curtain upon the last sad act of the great drama of the times, in which our own California plays so disgraced a part. Every man whose vote is recorded against this measure, "is a thousand fold worse than Benedict Arnold in treachery to his native or adopted land," be his political predilections what they may. In regard to the final section of the Railroad bill, which the Senate so magnanimously adopted, we can only say, in the language of Senator GWIN, 'little as it gives, it is all (we) ever expected from the Congress of the United States.'"

The San Francisco Evening Bulletin is even more indignant, and holds out a threat that California will take measures to free herself from the oppressions of Congress. It says:

"Continual neglect and injustice must deaden the affection and allegiance which this State has ever, so far, keenly felt for the Confederacy. A new generation is rapidly growing up in this distant country, who will be bound by no habit of love for the old States, but who will examine the question of their political relations, with respect to their advantages, on their own merits solely. And if Congress persists in the endeavor to estrange the Pacific States, that end will be more suddenly consummated than, perhaps, people abroad imagine. Our connection with the Union is all to the profit of the other side of the continent now. Nothing but the closest intimacy and the most expeditious intercommunication can maintain an affection opposed constantly by interest. And if the East will not consent to establish that intimacy and freedom of intercourse, she must expect to see these great States of the West fall away from them. Without a railroad California is not a sister and an equal in the Union. She will not now consent to hold any other position in the Confederacy."

A fatal snow avalanche had occurred on the sides of the Downieville Buttes in Sierra County, which crushed or carried away REIS' quartz mill, and the dwelling-house near REYNOLDS' mill. HENRY EBERHARDT was killed, and G. W. and W. C. REYNOLDS were wounded, all having been in the dwelling at the time the avalanche came. GEORGE REYNOLDS was badly hurt. By this deplorable occurrence, many are reminded that, in the Winter of 1852, two men were killed by an avalanche near the spot where REYNOLDS' quartz mill was afterwards erected. Sixty or seventy men were hunting for EBERHARDT.

British Columbia.

Dates from Victoria are to Feb. 24. The news from the mines is of a very encouraging character, and considering the very small number of miners at work, the returns must be regarded as large. There are not many more than six hundred miners at work on the Fraser River, and many companies are averaging $10 per day per man. In the space of a fortnight the yield was upwards of 30,000 ounces, and the total shipments to San Francisco by the steamers Pacific and Northerner was upwards of $50,000, of which $45,000 were shipped by WELLS, FARGO & CO. Present accounts from the Upper Fraser country represent that region as being highly auriferous, the gold being of a coarse quality. There is no doubt that after a large body of miners shall have congregated on the ground during the ensuing Summer, the yield of gold will be something considerable. The Fraser River mines resemble those of California in presenting an equal distribution of gold, and in this respect they differ materially from most of the Australian mines, where the yield is very prolific, but is confined to particular spots; and, consequently, where mining partakes very much of the character of a lottery.

A report has reached town of some Indian thefts and outrages having been committed on the Upper Fraser's River, but they do not appear to be of a very serious character, involving the sacrifice of life. In one case the miners resorted to the code of Judge Lynch—flogged six Indians and hanged their leaders.

Governor DOUGLAS has issued a proclamation in reference to the Colony of British Columbia, and declaring Queensborough the port of entry. The great advantage of this site is its adaptation as a naval and military station. It is situate about 20 miles lower down the river than Fort Langley, and on the opposite side, is well protected by nature, and has a fine anchorage. No small disappointment and commotion has been engendered among the property holders and land speculators at Fort Langley, who anticipate that their investments will not turn out so profitable as they expected. Langley will still be considered as the capital town, and the court-house, jail and other public buildings will be erected there. The upset price of land, not being mineral lands intended for the sites of towns, has been fixed at $2 50 per acre. The Government has liberally declared that purchasers of town lots in the proposed capital of British Columbia, who may be owners of town lots in Langley, under the sale of November, on which the whole amount of purchase-money has been paid to the Government, will be allowed to surrender their lots in Langley, and to have the price paid allowed them as payment in full for lots purchased in the proposed capital, of a greater price in the aggregate. Vessels will be allowed to proceed direct to the port of entry without touching at Victoria. One-fourth of the whole number of lots has been reserved for purchasers in the United Kingdom and the Canadas.

Much excitement had been occasioned at Victoria among the citizens of the United States by the authorities not permitting a public salute to be given by the American residents on 22d February, in honor of the anniversary of WASHINGTON'S birthday. At a meeting of Americans held there on 21st February, the following correspondence was read:

To His Excellency Gov. James Douglas, C. B.—The American residents of this place, being desirous of celebrating the birthday of General GEORGE WASHINGTON, propose firing a salute at meridian to-morrow. Trusting that your Excellency will approve thereof, we remain, very respectfully,

[Signed by 19 mercantile firms.]

GOVERNMENT HOUSE, Victoria, V. I.,
Feb. 21, 1859.

GENTLEMEN: I am directed by His Excellency the Governor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of this date, applying to His Excellency for permission to celebrate the birth-day of General GEORGE WASHINGTON, by a salute at meridian to-morrow.

In reply thereto, I am to acquaint you that His Excellency, although possessing the most sincere desire to show especial regard to the memory of so estimable and virtuous a private gentleman and so illustrious a patriot and statesman as WASHINGTON, does not feel authorized, even in this case, to depart so far from custom as to sanction any public demonstrations of any marked character, such as the firing of salutes or public processions through the streets, being undertaken by private individuals.

Your most obedient servant,
WILLIAM A. G. YOUNG,
Acting Colonial Secretary.

A Committee of five was appointed to draw up a Protest. On the 22d, in a public meeting, the following document was read and adopted with enthusiasm:

TO THE WORLD: The undersigned, in pursuance of the foregoing resolutions, believing that the simple publication of the correspondence above is sufficient to proclaim to all men more forcibly than can be done in any other manner the indignity which had been cast upon us as a people, will simply say:

That in our opinion there is no sentiment of humanity so ennobling in its effects as that of reverence for the memory of the dead. The fact is so apparent that governments ever seek to cherish the growth of that feeling as an incentive to glorious deeds. Thus each country, in its past history, has enshrined some hero, whose name is handed down from generation to generation, as an inheritance of national glory. Among the enlightened nations of the earth these emotions of pride in each other are deemed worthy of a mutual respect, and often, though not perhaps fully sympathizing with its object, one will gladly aid another in paying its tribute to departed worth. No person of intelligence, at the present day, is ignorant of the feeling of almost adoration with which the name of WASHINGTON is regarded by the American people, and it is well known that in whatever portion of the globe they may be found, they would deem themselves forgetful of a sacred duty did they pass unnoticed the anniversary of his birth.

The larger portion of this community is at present composed of Americans who have emigrated to the colony in its infancy—almost entirely developing, as far as has yet been done, the resources of the interior, by their enterprise and industry. By our own acts we have identified our interests with the welfare of the country. We are confident, also, that since our sojourn here we have fully sustained the proud reputation of law-abiding citizens.

In view of these facts, it seems that a sense of justice would have dictated at least the assignment of a reason for the refusal of our request, published as above. In the absence of such reason, and the total silence of the reply upon that point, we are forced to believe that a desire is entertained of making us feel that we are aliens, whose presence is unwished for, and who must neither look for the respect which is due to our country, nor the common courtesies which are paid to gentlemen in every portion of the world.

VICTORIA, V. I., Feb. 22, 1859.

There was no business done among the American residents on the 22d, their stores being closed. The stores of several respectable English firms were also closed. In the evening a public dinner took place, at which between thirty and forty persons, chiefly Americans, sat down.

Sandwich Islands.

Dates are to Feb. 18. The Kamoi had returned with the party of excursionists who went to see the eruption of Mauna Loa, and the columns of the Advertiser are filled with a long account. The eruption still continued unabated, and is said to be the grandest which has been witnessed in fifty years. The lava ran down the mountain and filled up a large valley or hollow between Mauna Loa and Mauna Hualalai. This it was five days in doing, at the end of which time the stream made its appearance near the course of the eruption of 1804, and running down, reached the sea at a little hamlet called Palaca, about 10 or 12 miles from Kawaihae, destroying a few native houses and a fine grove of cocoanut trees, and completely filling up the harbor or landing place.

FROM BARBADOES.

Legislative Modification of the Tariff—Departure of Governor Hincks—Prospects of the Sugar Crop, &c.

From Our Own Correspondent.

BRIDGETOWN, Barbadoes, Sunday, March 13, 1859.

The Legislature of this island are engaged at present in revising the tariff, and some of the changes made will interest those of your readers who are engaged in West India commerce. The most important reduction is that in the duty on codfish, from eight to four cents the quintal. The article is now excluded from bond. It was also proposed to make a similar reduction in the duty on rice, but it was thought safer to see first the result of the experiment on fish, an article of a much more perishable nature. The House included in the table of exemptions all machinery imported, and also sundry other articles which now realize an insignificant amount of duty. To make up for the anticipated loss of revenue, the Royal mail steamers which bring freight from England, viâ St. Thomas, and which heretofore have been exempted from tonnage duty, will for the future be liable to that impost in common with other vessels bringing freight to the island. As Barbadoes is fed exclusively by the United States, and as she imports a large proportion of machinery from the same quarter, the alterations in the new Trade Bill will be of special interest to the American trader.

Of course you do not expect political news from such a quiet little spot as this where the Government is carried on as smoothly as possible by a select coterie of planters. The nearest approach I can make to political intelligence is to announce that Governor HINCKS takes his departure to-day for England viâ Havana and New-York. His Excellency communicated his intended departure to the Legislature last week, and both Houses presented him with flattering addresses on the occasion. During the Governor's absence, which I understand is owing to unsettled health, the Government will be administered by the Colonial Secretary, which office will in turn be filled by Mr. ALEXANDER HINCKS, the Governor's eldest son.

There are not the prospects of such a large sugar crop this year as we had last year. It is not believed that it will, this year, exceed 37,000, or at the outside 40,000 hogsheads. Last year it reached the enormous figure of 50,000 hogsheads, which, estimating the land under cane cultivation at 25,000 acres, made two hogsheads per acre. I have heard planters say that they will produce this year three hogsheads per acre, but this is an exception—not the rule. About 1,500 hogsheads have been already shipped for Europe; the canes are rapidly ripening, and crop operations will soon be general.

The health of Barbadoes continues good; but yellow fever is very prevalent in nearly all the adjacent islands, though the fact is studiously kept out of local papers. Trinidad, St. Vincent, Antigua and St. Thomas are all suffering from the fever.

Markets are overstocked. A very large number of vessels having arrived of late from the United States, they have been compelled to carry on their freight to other islands.

A gentleman of not a little literary note, sojourning at the Astor House, and enjoying the luxury of that incomparable bed, (HOWE'S,) perpetrates the following, which is too good to be lost:

Sweet is the rest, when toil is done,
That gentle, balmy slumber brings;
But sweeter, doubly sweet, when won
By magic of Elliptic Springs.

Try, then, ye weary, seeking rest,
So one and all, ye shall agree,
That if one mortal should be blest,
'Tis HOWE, the Bed spring Patentee.

He is the man whose genius smoothes
Night's rough and weary hours, I trow;
Whose easy bed our slumber soothes,
The Patent Spring Man, "That's the HOWE?"
